Truck Loaded with Bubble Bath Plunges into Rattlesnake Creek

FISH GIVEN SURPRISE—25,000 pounds of bubble bath and soap powder went sudsing out onto the CCC highway and into Rattlesnake Creek about 6 a. m. today when a huge tractor-trailer skidded on the bridge west of here and plunged over the side, Kenneth Taylor, the driver, was charged with reckless operation. No one was injured.

Fish in Rattlesnake Creek were given a cold bubble bath when the trailer of a big tractor-trailer outfit crashed through the concrete sidewalk on the north side of the bridge on the CCC Highway west of here and plunged into the stream more than 30 feet below about 6 a. m. Tuesday.

The huge steel trailer literally burst wide open, finally came to rest with one end in the water and the other leaning against the side of the bridge.

The 25,000 pounds of bubble bath powder and soap chips in the truck was spread all over the bridge and dumped into the creek, where the results were just what could be expected—a foamy and sweet scented mess. Just how the fish will take to their new bath water probably will not be known for some time—until Game Protector Dave Krupla makes a check.

Damages to the bridge have not yet been estimated in dollars and cents, but a big chunk was knocked out of the sidewalk by the trailer when it went over the top.

KENNETH TAYLOR, 33, Columbus, driver of the truck, was charged with reckless operation by Sheriff Orland Hays. He probably will be arraigned in Municipal Court here this week.

The truck, Taylor told Sheriff Hays, had been loaded with the bubble bath and soap chips at Jeffersonville, Ind., and that its immediate destination was Columbus. The tractor-trailer outfit fit, a 1953 International Diesel, is owned by the Snyder Trucking Co. of Columbus, the sheriff said.

Sheriff Hays received the call from Robert Case, who lives less than a quarter of a mile from the bridge, at 6:05 a. m. and was at the bridge in 10 minutes. But even then traffic was beginning to back up.

Sheriff Hays said, after talking with the driver, that the outfit had started to slide as it approached the west end of the bridge when the trailer broke loose from the tractor and plunged over the concrete side.

The tractor was twisted across the bridge and about the center of it, blocking traffic for about 20 minutes. Since operation of the tractor was not seriously impaired by the crash, it was driven off of the bridge as soon as the sheriff completed his check of what happened.

Getting the big wrecked trailer out of the creek and the slimy mess cleaned up was a bigger job, however.

Kentucky Town Plagued by Flood

BARBOURVILLE, Ky.—The rain-swollen Cumberland River overshot its flood stage by almost three feet early today, putting about 30 per cent of Barbourville under water.

Mayor W. C. Asher said he had called for the Kentucky National Guard to aid in evacuating the population of almost 3,000.

Many of the town's streets were under 6 feet of water by 9 a. m.

Ohio Solons Quickly Oppose Ike's School-Building Deal

WASHINGTON—Ohio's representatives to the nation's capital, senators and congressmen alike, are almost to the man strongly opposed to the $2.2 billion federal school construction program proposed Monday by President Eisenhower.

The Ohio delegation wasted no time in voicing opposition, reporting that the Buckeye State would put, roughly, twice as much tax money into the program as it would take out. They said the Ohio figure would be about $11.3 million for each of the next four years.

The Eisenhower program was assailed by Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) as an encroachment on the federal government's capital function. The President's program would mean expanding "costly and inefficient bureaus" in Washington, he said. "Ohio can take care of its own schools."

Mobile Unit To Be at First Presbyterian Church

Bloodmobile Visit Set Feb. 6

The Red Cross blood bank's mobile unit will make its first call of 1957 in Fayette County on Feb. 6.

It will be set up this year at the First Presbyterian Church, corner of Market and Hinde Sts. from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m.

Phi Beta Psi Sorority, sponsor for the coming visit, already has started recruiting donors.

The quota for Fayette County is 175 pints, the same as it has been for the last several visits, and a special appeal is being made for Type O-positive blood. O-positive is the most common type, it was explained, and for this reason is in greatest demand.

BECAUSE of the increasing use of blood for transfusions and for production of derivatives for use in treatment of a growing number of maladies, the quotas have been increased within the last 12 months, it was pointed out.

Since many patients in Memorial Hospital come from surrounding areas, posters calling attention to the Feb. 6 visit of the bloodmobile have been placed in offices of physicians, not only in Washington C. H., but also in Greenfield and Sabina.

Memorial Hospital, biggest user of blood here, was compelled to issue a call for volunteers for eight donors of O-positive type blood Jan. 17 because none was available at the blood bank. All told last year, 135 donors gave blood at the hospital in response to special appeals.

THE BLOODMOBILE comes to Fayette County every two months, and records at the hospital show that more blood was used at the local institution last year than was donated to the blood bank by Fayette Countians.

Blood donated here goes to the Red Cross blood bank in Columbus, where it is stored with blood donated in other counties of the district. It is from these "deposits" that Memorial Hospital draws blood when needed.

Members of Phi Beta Psi are now making appointments for donors so they may go to the church and step right into the mobile unit without having to wait. Calls for appointments may be made either to Mrs. Elmer Reed, (7081), chairman of the committee this year, or to Mrs. Leonard Korn (2-2401), Red Cross chapter secretary.

Appointments, it was explained, (Please turn to page seven)

News in Brief

Red Chinese Hint Exchange With America

NEW DELHI—The Indian government radio quoted Red China's Premier Chou En-lai today as saying Peiping would consider exchanging 10 imprisoned Americans for 33 Chinese Chou said were being held in the United States.

The radio said Chou made the statement in a news conference in Katmandu before leaving that capital of Nepal on his South Asian tour. He arrived at Calcutta today.

Chou said Peiping would consider the exchange proposal (he did not say who made the proposal) but would not allow its policies toward the United States to be influenced by American policies toward China.

Six of the 10 Americans are missionaries.

A deadlock has followed months of diplomatic negotiations in Geneva, Switzerland, over these prisoners and Chinese which Peiping declares are held in the United States. The U. S. government denies it is holding any Chinese who want to return to Red China.

Canton Slayer Slated for Trial

CANTON—Nicholas M. Kostic, 39, has been pronounced mentally able to stand trial on a first-degree murder charge, but his attorneys say there will be no change in his plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

Kostic was indicted last June in the slaying of his estranged wife, Mary, 34, and Dr. H. P. Hart in Massillon. He was taken to Lima State Hospital for an examination after a sanity hearing.

The superintendent of the hospital, Dr. R. E. Bushong, told Common Pleas Judge Paul G. Weber Monday that Kostic has "made a mental recovery" and can stand trial.

Bogart's Estate To Top Million

HOLLYWOOD—Humphrey Bogart's business manager, Morgan Maree, says the late actor's estate will involve holdings of well over $1 million.

Maree declined to estimate the exact figure, saying this would not be known until all of Bogart's holdings had been surveyed.

The business manager said the will is to be filled for probate in three or four weeks. Bogart died of cancer Jan. 14.

O'Neill Outlines Program for Ohio

COLUMBUS—Gov. C. William O'Neill has handed the Ohio Legislature a partial blueprint of the state's immediate future. It does not, he declared flatly, include a state income tax.

Both houses of the Republican-controlled General Assembly greeted the new GOP governor warmly and listened attentively Monday night as he sketched a rosy picture in his "State-of-the-State" message.

U. N. Mid-East Debate Shelved

Solution Is Sought In Bitter Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The U. N. General Assembly prepared today to put its heated Middle East debate on ice for several days while delegates sought some solution to the Israeli-Egyptian deadlock.

Informed sources said the 80-nation Assembly planned to sidetrack the discussion after Russia and several Arab states have their say. The Russians were expected to press demands that Israel get out of Egypt and to oppose any plan to widen the scope of the U. N. Emergency Force.

Several British Commonwealth nations were reported seeking support for a plan to bolster Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld's efforts to get Israeli troops out of Egypt and broaden the duties of the U. N. Force.

The plan gained impetus when the United States threw its support behind Hammarskjöld's efforts as spelled out in his detailed report.

U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. did not offer any resolution or these moves.

BUT INFORMED diplomats said he has been discussing such a proposal with Canada's Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson and others.

The plan would call again on the Israelis to pull back to the 1949 armistice line. It would authorize Hammarskjöld to station UNEF troops on both the Israeli and Egyptian sides of the armistice line from the Gaza Strip around to the Gulf of Aqaba.

It would also call for sending U. N. units to the Sharm el Sheikh area along the gulf to act as true observers. They would try to ensure freedom of Israeli shipping through the gulf.

Youth Being Held After Fatal Crash

URBANA—Larry Taylor, 20, of Dayton, was placed under police guard in a hospital here this morning. He was injured in an automobile accident two miles south of Urbana on U. S. 68 shortly after midnight.

State police said Freddie Lewis Egler, 19, also of Dayton, was killed in the single car accident. They said the car was reported stolen Monday night.

KNOWLAND reported earlier in the day, after a conference of Re-

He observed it is not an idle daydream that Ohio may become "the leading state in the nation."

O'Neill dropped his "no-state-income-tax" remark unexpectedly into his prepared address. But he let it be known, both through his talk to legislators and an earlier press conference, that the two-year budget he will submit in mid-February will be balanced with present taxes.

Major sections of the 40-year-old governor's program spelled out Monday night called for:

A "crash" program under a special task force unit to build four-lane highways, including a north-south freeway, to link cities on the interstate system.

SPEEDY building of mental hospitals and intensive training of personnel to care for inmates plus help for retarded children.

Creation of a committee to consider care of the aged.

Removal of the $65-a-month aid for aged award maximum in favor of a program which would finance all their needs.

Creation of a committee on higher education within a month "to give definite leadership to our educational processes beyond the high school level."

Legislative study of salary and pension increases for past and present state employees within budget limits.

Intensive efforts to conserve and augment water resources.

Driver training in schools to help cut the highway toll and removal of accident-prone motorists and machines from the road.

A Civil Rights commission similar to the President's to "work toward eliminating the last vestige of discrimination."

Hungary Holding U. S. Rescue Aide

BUDAPEST—Hungarian officials stymied efforts of U. S. diplomats today to visit Richard Roraback, 26, of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., an American volunteer rescue worker jailed Jan. 12.

The diplomats, angered by this violation of international custom concerning access to prisoners, referred the case to Washington.

If standard Communist procedure was followed, Roraback has not been permitted to talk with anybody but his jailers and police interrogators.

Skid Row Killer Faces Hearing

Coroner's Inquest Due In Chicago Slayings

CHICAGO—Edward (Bennie) Bedwell, young Skid Row drifter who confessed he and another man killed the Grimes sisters, was summoned before a coroner's jury today at the resumption of the inquest into the girls' deaths.

Bedwell, in a confession reported by Sheriff Joseph Lohman, said he and a companion he knew as "Frank" beat and stripped the girls and tossed them into a snowbank on the night of Jan. 13.

The 21-year-old dishwasher related in his confession he and his companion had been living and carousing with the Grimes girls for a week in Skid Row bars.

The Grimes sisters, Barbara, 15, and Patricia, 13, disappeared from their South Side home Dec. 28. Their naked and frozen bodies were found Jan. 22 in a ditch near suburban Willow Springs.

Solons Schedule Review of Policy

WASHINGTON—The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees voted unanimously today to conduct a complete review of U. S. foreign policy in the Middle East over the last 11 years.

The vote was 39-0.

Senate GOP Leader Knowland (Calif.) and Sen. Wiley (Wis.), ranking Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the White House and State Department had no objection to the inquiry.

The action apparently cleared the way for ultimate Senate adoption of a resolution giving President Eisenhower authority to use U. S. forces to combat any Communist aggression in the Middle East. The Eisenhower resolution would also authorize $200 million of aid to Mid-East nations.

The vote by the Senate committee came as the House began debate on the Eisenhower program with prospects of its approval in that body Wednesday.

Republican Leader Martin (Mass) said he thought there was a chance, in fact, of a House vote late today.

KNOWLAND reported earlier in the day, after a conference of Republican legislative leaders at the White House, that the administration would make every effort to cooperate with the review of Middle East policy.

The measure came up for House debate today with indications of adoption by a big majority. The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted 24-2 to approve it without major change.

Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas said Secretary of State Dulles had told him privately the administration would not oppose an amendment Johnson proposed.

Under it, Congress would get advance reports of where Eisenhower will spend up to $200 million in available foreign aid money in the Middle East. Acceptance of this amendment is expected to increase Democratic votes for the resolution.

Republicans generally agreed to support an inquiry into past policies in the Middle East when Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) agreed to extend the scope of the review as far back as January 1946, when the Democrats were in power.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) spoke the view of most Republicans when he said, "We didn't want to have the

Ohio Assembly Action Asked In Long Dispute

Stark County Solon Would Delve Into Violence, Damage

COLUMBUS—Rep. Guy Hiner (R-Stark) today drafted a resolution calling for a legislative investigation of conditions incident to the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. strike.

The resolution calls for a six-member joint legislative committee, empowered to delve into conditions surrounding the violence and property damage in the strike, started by the Communication Workers of America last July 15.

Violence in the strike against the company, which operates in many communities in Ohio, has centered in Portsmouth, where the company's exchanges were closed for a long period. Supervisory personnel operate the exchanges in Scioto County.

Negotiations to end the strike have been underway for many weeks without significant progress. The union wants to retain a union shop clause in any new contract, the same as in the old contract. But General Telephone Co., which now controls Ohio Consolidated, is opposed to the union shop clause.

HINER'S PROPOSED committee would be empowered to make recommendations aimed at preventing a recurrence of violence. It would be required to make its report by April 1.

Earlier today, E. L. Phillips, federal negotiator, reported that union and management remained deadlocked in conferences called to seek a settlement in the lengthy telephone strike. Monday's negotiations lasted nine hours.

Meanwhile, Portsmouth police officials blamed demands on its cruisers and officers, due to the strike, for the worst crime wave in the city's history.

Police officials said patrolmen in cruisers were used to contact personnel, patients' relatives and doctors for the city's free hospitals, because of the lack of phone service, due to wholesale cable slashes.

This use of cruisers and patrolmen for messenger service leaves the business and residential districts wide open to all types of crime.

Texas City Hit By 3 Bombings

BEAUMONT, Tex.—Three bomb blasts shook separate sections of Beaumont Monday night, but no injuries were reported and police said they could find no reason for the bombings.

One bomb blew up the body of a truck owned by State Rep. Rufus Kilpatrick.

Another explosion damaged the entrance to St. Michael's Orthodox Church. The third blast broke some windows in a home.

Several weeks ago, bombs blasted the yards of two Negro men, but police said they didn't think there was any connection between those blasts and the latest incidents.

Wilson Puts Foot in Mouth again, This Time against National Guard

WASHINGTON—U. S. Secretary of Defense Wilson, he of "foot-in-mouth" fame, has done it again. This time, at least one congressman believes Wilson's target will get a boost. The defense chief's latest controversial remark concerned his statement about "draft dodging" in the National Guard.

Wilson touched off the new furor when he said it was "a sort of a scandal during the Korean War" that youths under 18½ could enlist in the Guard "and not be drafted to fight in Korea."

Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh called the statement a "damn lie." Walsh, president of the National Guard Assn., said that many Guard units had served valiantly in Korea and that "not one of these young men was a draft dodger" since none was old enough for the draft when he enlisted.

Rep. Charles E. Bennett (D-Fla.), a member of the House Armed Services Committee hearing Wilson, said he thinks the episode will help the Guard in its fight against a Pentagon order that all new Army guardsmen must take six months active duty training. The Guard, fearing that its recruiting will fall away, wants instead to train its men in shorter periods that can fit into school vacations.

Bennett said Wilson's remark should clarify the issue because it "reveals a misunderstanding deep in the Department of Defense as to the ability of the National Guard to handle part of this training in its own program—in fact, it shows a deep misunderstanding of Guard accomplishments."

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, suggested that Wilson apologize for his statement, saying it "casts a cloud upon all Americans who have served in the National Guard at great personal sacrifice."

General Walsh reported that during the Korean war, "we not only asked, but demanded" that the whole National Guard be mobilized.

"They did mobilize 37 per cent of the Army National Guard and 84.4 per cent of the Air Guard," he said. Of the guardsmen who were mobilized, he said, virtually all got to Korea.

In saying that a Guard enlistee was making himself liable for service, rather than evading it,

Walsh noted that the President had the authority to order the Guardsmen into service.

The Guard association's executive council, at a meeting here, said there is a "long-range conspiracy on the part of the Departments of Defense and Army to downgrade the Army National Guard." It accused the military departments of slurring over the achievements of the Guard.

Rep. Charles E. Bennett (D-Fla.) of the Armed Services Committee called Wilson's statement about the Guard regrettable.

Wilson has touched off several furors in the past with his blunt remarks. Among the more notable was his "bird dog" comment and his use of the word "phony" in connection with a congressional increase in airpower funds.

U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. did not offer any resolution or these moves.

BUT INFORMED diplomats said he has been discussing such a proposal with Canada's Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson and others.

The plan would call again on the Israelis to pull back to the 1949 armistice line. It would authorize Hammarskjöld to station UNEF troops on both the Israeli and Egyptian sides of the armistice line from the Gaza Strip around to the Gulf of Aqaba.

It would also call for sending U. N. units to the Sharm el Sheikh area along the gulf to act as truce observers. They would try to ensure freedom of Israeli shipping through the gulf.

Youth Being Held After Fatal Crash

URBANA—Larry Taylor, 20, of Dayton, was placed under police guard in a hospital here this morning. He was injured in an automobile accident, two miles south of Urbana on U. S. 68 shortly after midnight.

State police said Freddie Lewis Egler, 19, also of Dayton, was killed in the single car accident. They said the car was reported stolen Monday night.

Wilson Puts Foot in Mouth again, This Time against National Guard

WASHINGTON—U. S. Secretary of Defense Wilson, he of "foot-in-mouth" fame, has done it again. This time, at least one congressman believes Wilson's target will get a boost. The defense chief's latest controversial remark concerned his statement about "draft dodging" in the National Guard.

Wilson touched off the new furor when he said it was "a sort of scandal during the Korean War" that youths under 18½ could enlist in the Guard "and not be drafted to fight in Korea."

Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh called the statement a "damn lie." Walsh, president of the National Guard Assn., said that many Guard units had served valiantly in Korea and that "not one of these young men was a draft dodger" since none was old enough for the draft when he enlisted.

Rep. Charles E. Bennett (D-Fla.), a member of the House Armed Services Committee hearing Wilson, said he thinks the episode will help the Guard in its fight against a Pentagon order that all new Army guardsmen must take six months active duty training. The Guard, fearing that its recruiting will fall away, wants instead to train its men in shorter periods that can fit into school vacations.

Bennett said Wilson's remark should clarify the issue because it "reveals a misunderstanding deep in the Department of Defense as to the ability of the National Guard to handle part of this training in its own program—in fact, it shows a deep misunderstanding of

BUDAPEST—Hungarian officials stymied efforts of U. S. diplomats today to visit Richard Roraback, 26, of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., an American volunteer rescue worker jailed Jan. 12.

The diplomats, angered by this violation of international custom concerning access to prisoners, referred the case to Washington.

If standard Communist procedure was followed, Roraback has not been permitted to talk with anybody but his jailers and police interrogators.

Skid Row Killer Faces Hearing

Coroner's Inquest Due In Chicago Slayings

CHICAGO—Edward (Bennie) Bedwell, young Skid Row drifter who confessed he and another man killed the Grimes sisters, was summoned before a coroner's jury today at the resumption of the inquest into the girls' deaths.

Bedwell, in a confession reported by Sheriff Joseph Lohman, said he and a companion he knew as "Frank" beat and stripped the girls and tossed them into a snowbank on the night of Jan. 13.

The 21-year-old dishwasher related in his confession he and his companion had been living and carousing with the Grimes girls for a week in Skid Row bars.

The Grimes sisters, Barbara, 15, and Patricia, 13, disappeared from their South Side home Dec. 28. Their naked and frozen bodies were found Jan. 22 in a ditch near suburban Willow Springs.

Solons Schedule Review of Policy

WASHINGTON—The Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees voted unanimously today to conduct a complete review of U. S. foreign policy in the Middle East over the last 11 years.

The vote was 30-0. Senate GOP Leader Knowland (Calif) and Sen. Wiley (Wis.), ranking Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the White House and State Department had no objection to the inquiry.

The action apparently cleared the way for ultimate Senate adoption of a resolution giving President Eisenhower authority to use U. S. forces to combat any Communist aggression in the Middle East. The Eisenhower resolution would also authorize $200 million of aid to Middle East nations.

The vote by the Senate committee came as the House began debate on the Eisenhower program with prospects of its approval in that body Wednesday.

Republican Leader Martin (Mass) said he thought there was a chance, in fact, of a House vote late today.

KNOWLAND reported earlier in the day, after a conference of Republican legislative leaders at the White House, that the administration would make every effort to cooperate with the review of Middle East policy.

The measure came up for House debate today with indications of adoption by a big majority. The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted 24-2 to approve it without major change.

Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas said Secretary of State Dulles had told him privately the administration would not oppose an amendment Johnson proposed.

Under it, Congress would get advance reports of where Eisenhower will spend up to $200 million in available foreign aid money in the Middle East. Acceptance of this amendment is expected to increase Democratic votes for the resolution.

Republicans generally agreed to support an inquiry into past policies in the Middle East when Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) agreed to extend the scope of the review as far back as January 1946, when the Democrats were in power.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) spoke the view of most Republicans when he said, "We didn't want to have the

Ohio Assembly Action Asked In Long Dispute

Stark County Solon Would Delve Into Violence, Damage

COLUMBUS—Rep. Guy Hiner (R-Stark) today drafted a resolution calling for a legislative investigation of conditions incident to the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. strike.

The resolution calls for a six-member joint legislative committee, empowered to delve into conditions surrounding the violence and property damage in the strike, started by the Communications Workers of America last July 15.

Violence in the strike against the company, which operates in many communities in Ohio, has centered in Portsmouth, where the company's exchanges were closed for a long period. Supervisory personnel operate the exchanges in Scioto County.

Negotiations to end the strike have been underway for many weeks without significant progress. The union wants to retain a union shop clause in any new contract, the same as in the old contract. But General Telephone Co., which controls Ohio Consolidated, is opposed to the union shop clause.

HINER'S PROPOSED committee would be empowered to make recommendations aimed at preventing a recurrence of violence. It would be required to make its report by April 1.

Earlier today, E. L. Phillips, federal negotiator, reported that union and management remained deadlocked in conferences called to seek a settlement in the lengthy telephone strike. Monday's negotiations lasted nine hours.

Meanwhile, Portsmouth police officials blamed demands on its cruisers and officers, due to the strike, for the worst crime wave in the city's history.

Police officials said patrolmen in cruisers were used to contact personnel, patients' relatives and doctors for the city's free hospitals, because of the lack of phone service, due to wholesale cable slashings.

This use of cruisers and patrolmen for messenger service leaves the business and residential districts wide open to all types of crime. (Please turn to page two)

Texas City Hit By 3 Bombings

BEAUMONT, Tex.—Three bomb blasts shook separate sections of Beaumont Monday night, but no injuries were reported and police said they could find no reason for the bombings.

One bomb blew up the body of a truck owned by State Rep. Rufus Kilpatrick.

Another explosion damaged the entrance to St. Michael's Orthodox Church. The third blast broke some windows in a home.

Several weeks ago, bombs blasted the yards of two Negro men, but police said they didn't think there was any connection between those blasts and the latest incidents.

(Please Turn to Page Twelve)

Walsh noted that the President had the authority to order the Guardsmen into service.

The Guard association's executive council, at a meeting here, said there is a "long-range conspiracy on the part of the Departments of Defense and Army to downgrade the Army National Guard." It accused the military departments of slurring over the achievements of the Guard.

Rep. Charles E. Bennett (D-Fla.) of the Armed Services Committee called Wilson's statement about the Guard regrettable.

Wilson has touched off several furors in the past with his blunt remarks. Among the more notable was his "bird dog" comment and his use of the word "phony" in connection with a congressional increase in airpower funds.

Group Nabbed Here for Fraud In Highland

Adults Found Guilty Of Fraud and Told To Get Out of Ohio

A man, two women and four children who allegedly swindled at least $60 from Highland County churchgoers in an effort to "get back to Kentucky" were believed back in Kentucky today.

Convicted in Hillsboro Monday of obtaining money under false pretenses were: Mrs. Evelyn Hodge, 32, Mrs. Stella Carter, 43, and Jewell Johnson, 22. With them were Mrs. Hodge's four children, ranging in ages from one and one-half to seven years.

Highland County Justice of the Peace David Boothby said the trio had collected free-will offerings from churches in Leesburg and Highland on the strength of a story that they were returning from a funeral and didn't have enough cash.

The group was arrested here Sunday morning by Sheriff Orland Hays while they relaxed in their parked car on W. Court St. whether they planned to try their racket here when they were picked up will never be known.

Boothby sentenced each of the three to 90 days in the workhouse and fined each $300. The sentence was suspended, though, on condition that none of the offenders appear in an Ohio court for the next five years and that they all get out of the state.

They were wanted in three states for similar bilkings.

IT WAS ON Sunday, Jan. 20, reports state, that the seven-year old girl approached officers in Leesburg and Highland churches and said the group was hungry and had slept out all night. She said they were returning from a funeral in Mansfield and didn't have enough money to get home on.

Free-will offerings were taken at four churches. A member of one congregation gave money and a tank of gasoline. The trio collected $60 at three of the churches, then left before collecting an additional $15 which had been given at a fourth church.

During questioning, the trio had a hot discussion when the women learned the man had been holding out $10 which they did not know was in his possession.

robbery, they said.

In the last 48 hours police records show four safes cracked in central district business establishments, netting $900 in cash; eight business places, one church and one school entered; numerous automobiles looted and approximately 100 parking meters robbed.

Police arrested five teenagers to clear up some robberies and one adult violator as he tried to rob another establishment.

THE SCIOTO County grand jury today indicted two men on maiming charges growing out of violence during the strike in Portsmouth. The grand jury also returned 25 secret indictments.

One of the men indicted was a member of the union, David R. Bartlett. The other, Ralph Wemple of New Philadelphia, is a supervisor for General Telephone.

The charges stemmed around a picket line incident in front of the Portsmouth telephone exchange last October.

There was no indication from local authorities as to the cases involved in the secret indictments. They will not be made public until arrests are made.

Robertson, his wife and daughter, asleep in the house, were not injured.

Herter Tagged For Top Policy Job with Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts was in line today to become the Eisenhower administration's chief policy coordinator. Vice President Nixon had been considered for the job.

Herter, scheduled to succeed Herbert Hoover Jr. as undersecretary of state this week, is expected to replace Hoover also as chairman of the Operations Coordinating Board.

In this role, he would see that government departments followed presidential policies and directives weren't sabotaged down the line.

President Eisenhower is reported to have decided against moving Nixon into the OCB chairmanship because too much detailed work is involved. He reportedly plans to use Nixon instead on special, specific policy missions at home and abroad.

Eisenhower's decision was reported to have been made in advance of the newest Herter-Nixon controversy stirred up by Harold F. Stassen.

Stassen, Eisenhower's disarmament assistant, said Sunday he still thinks the GOP would have won control of Congress if Herter had replaced Nixon on last year's Republican ticket.

Stassen staged a one-man campaign last August to replace Nixon but dropped it after a conference with Eisenhower at the GOP nominating convention.

THE GOVERNOR attributed Ohio's growth climate to a balance between labor and industry, rural and city interests; balanced state finances and integrity in government with law and order.

Without promising that his objectives could be attained without new or increased taxes, O'Neill held out the hope of avoiding them through businesslike state management.

One of the first steps in that direction, he said, will be mechanization of the Finance Department with a new division of management services composed of trained analysts.

"This staff will have special assignments to assist the executive and the directors of the departments in improving efficiency and eliminating waste in all state programs," O'Neill explained.

They are wanted in three states for similar biddings.

IT WAS ON Sunday, Jan. 20, reports state, that the seven-year old girl approached officers in Leesburg and Highland churches and said the group was hungry and had slept out all night. She said they were returning from a funeral in Mansfield and didn't have enough money to get home on.

Free-will offerings were taken at four churches. A member of one congregation gave money and a tank of gasoline. The trio collected $60 at three of the churches, then left before collecting an additional $15 which had been given at a fourth church. During questioning, the trio had a hot discussion when the women learned the man had been holding out $10 which they did not know was in his possession.

Ohio Farmers Cool On Soil Bank Idea

COLUMBUS (AP)—Many Ohio farmers will not participate in the government's soil bank program unless they are allowed to increase their corn acreage under the federal price support program, an official of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation said Monday.

H. D. Heckathorn, president of the federation, said present acreage allotments under the price support program will leave Ohio farmers, many of whom are livestock feeders, without feed.

Police arrested five teenagers to clear up some robberies and one adult violator as he tried to rob another establishment.

THE SCIOTO County grand jury today indicted two men on maiming charges growing out of violence during the strike in Portsmouth. The grand jury also returned 25 secret indictments.

One of the men indicted was a member of the union, David R. Bartlett. The other, Ralph Wemple of New Philadelphia, is a supervisor for General Telephone.

The charges stemmed around a picket line incident in front of the Portsmouth telephone exchange last October.

There was no indication from local authorities as to the cases involved in the secret indictments. They will not be made public until arrests are made.

Robertson, his wife and daughter, asleep in the house, were not injured.

Sellers said he had been attended by Robertson, a 59-year-old hospital orderly while hospitalized. He called the Negro an "innocent bystander" in the bombing, which police are still investigating together with six other bombings in the past three weeks.

U. S. Information Aide Quits Post

SEOUL (AP)—Charles Edmundson, U. S. Information Agency official in Korea, today handed in the resignation demanded because of his criticism of President Eisenhower's policies.

A terse announcement from Washington earlier said Edmundson had violated agency personnel regulations, that he was being recalled and his resignation requested.

Edmundson, 53, a former newspaperman and U. S. information official in Afghanistan, launched the controversy with a statement to newsmen in Tokyo charging Eisenhower's Middle East doctrine "may lead us beyond the brink and into atomic war."

The Army explained the furnace will collect the sun rays with a huge flat mirror about 40 feet long and 36 feet wide. This mirror then will reflect the rays 96 feet to a concentrating apparatus consisting of 180 curved mirrors, each 23 1/2 inches in diameter.

Herter Tagged For Top Policy Job with Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts was in line today to become the Eisenhower administration's chief policy coordinator. Vice President Nixon had been considered for the job.

Herter, scheduled to succeed Herbert Hoover Jr. as undersecretary of state this week, is expected to replace Hoover also as chairman of the Operations Coordinating Board.

In this role, he would see that government departments followed presidential policies and directives weren't sabotaged down the line.

President Eisenhower is reported to have decided against moving Nixon into the OCB chairmanship because too much detailed work is involved. He reportedly plans to use Nixon instead on special, specific police missions at home and abroad.

Eisenhower's decision was reported to have been made in advance of the newest Herter-Nixon controversy stirred up by Harold F. Stassen.

Stassen, Eisenhower's disarmament assistant, said Sunday he still thinks the GOP would have won control of Congress if Herter had replaced Nixon on last year's Republican ticket.

Stassen staged a one-man campaign last August to replace Nixon but dropped it after a conference with Eisenhower at the GOP nominating convention.

THE GOVERNOR attributed Ohio's growth climate to a balance between labor and industry, rural and city interests; balanced state finances and integrity in government with law and order.

Without promising that his objectives could be attained without new or increased taxes, O'Neill held out the hope of avoiding them through businesslike state management.

One of the first steps in that direction, he said, will be mechanization of the Finance Department with a new division of management services composed of trained analysts.

"This staff will have special assignments to assist the executive and the directors of the departments in improving efficiency and eliminating waste in all state programs," O'Neill explained.

Sale of the former Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley Railroad (Pennsylvania) passenger station here, to Tom Murray, who is to remodel the building for use as a Union Bus Terminal, recalls that for a great many years that road was known as the "Sheepskin Railroad".

Soon after the road was built in 1854, one of the trains ran into a flock of sheep near Sabina, killing more than 100 and injuring others. The rails were covered with so much sheep grease "that for some time after the mishap it was necessary to apply sand to the rails before a train could pass over the spot".

The name "Sheepskin" stuck, and for more than half a century it was known far and wide as the "Sheepskin Railroad".

The old Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad, now the B.O., running from Dayton to Chillicothe and other points, had the nickname of "Charge High and Darn Rough Riding".

The Pennsylvania Railroad obtained its sobriquet "Panhandle" from the fact that it crossed the West Virginia "Panhandle" extending between Ohio and Pennsylvania.

The Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and Indianapolis Railroad obtained its name "Big Four" from the fact that it touched the four large cities.

The Cincinnati, Portsmouth and Virginia Railroad later acquired by the N.W. Railroad, was for years called the "Coat, Pants and Vest" Railroad.

Then there was the Elizabeth, Lexington and Big Sandy Railroad, which passed through a thinly settled part of Kentucky, which was called "Eat Little and Be Satisfied Route".

Again, take the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, which long has been known as the "Best and Only" Railroad.

"I'd Better Walk" was the name applied to the Indianapolis Bloomington and Western Railroad.

I once heard a railroadman say that the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad was the "Delirium Tremens and Insomnia" road.

Oh, yes! I mustn't forget the branch of the D.T. & I. which extended from Kingman, through Jeffersonville to Sedalia, and was torn up some 20 years ago. It was known as the "Grasshopper Division".

One report was that the name was applied because the locomotives ran backward one way over the route, and the other was that it was because the right-of-way was usually overgrown with grass and weeds and swarms of grasshoppers were started from the roadbed as the trains moved over the route.

When the World Plowing Matches are held near Peebles, in Adams County, Sept. 17 to 20, inclusive, many Fayette County farmers will be among the thousands who attend the notable event. Expert plowmen from 22 nations will participate.

Mrs. Doris Wipert, who is on the Ohio State University staff of Farm Institute speakers, and delivered 11 addresses and four folk ballad programs with autoharp accompaniment in Adams County last week, brought back word of the elaborate plans being made for the plowing matches, in which Adams County officials, citizens and the State of Ohio are participating to insure success. The plans include a 200-foot air strip and field for accommodating the many airplanes expected at the meeting.

Mrs. Wipert stated that the whole county is enthused about the big contest being held in Adams County.

While in Adams County for the Farmers Institute addresses, Mrs. Wipert spent some time with Miss Ruth Engle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Engle, of the Snow-hill Rd., who is Adams County's first home demonstration agent, and is progressing nicely with her work. She started her new duties there in September.

Incidentally Mrs. Wipert is scheduled to give a series of lectures before three institutes in Coshocton County this week.

DISEASED CATTLE KILLED

Some 30 years ago discovery was made that the fatal "hoof and mouth disease", which is communicable to human beings, I am told, had appeared in a herd of cattle owned by Talcott T. Beatty, who resided at Jasper Mills, 4 1/2 miles west of Washington C. H.

Veterinarians, including the state veterinarian, went into consultation with the owner, and it was decided to slaughter the entire herd and bury them in the field where they had been feeding.

A long trench was dug some eight or 10 feet in width and about the same depth, and the entire herd was shot and their bodies dumped into the trench, quick lime applied, and the 40 or 50 steers covered over. As I recall the state paid for the slaughtered cattle.

All animals were kept out of the field for sometime, and the premises were thoroughly disinfected, so that there was no new outbreak of the disease.

So far as I know it was the first and last appearance of the disease in Fayette County, and was brought here by cattle shipped in from the Southwest.

A GOOD STEER

Ohio River Boat Finally Finds City to Have Her in Florida

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—It looks like the venerable Ohio River packet Gordon C. Greene has at last found a safe berth here in Florida.

A general citizen's meeting last week approved a zoning change to accommodate the craft, and only two minor steps remain before she can be brought here.

Yet it was only last month that a storm of protest arose over plans for present owners to dock the sternwheeler at Venice or Sarasota.

Sarasota residents denounced plans to bring the colorful craft there, and in a Venice suburb, a group took out full-page newspaper advertisements saying they would fight the location.

But Bradenton apparently satisfied everyone. Kimb C. Atwood, whose land adjoins where the packet will be moored, said "We

Sugar Beet Planting Allotments Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has announced the second upward revision in 1957 sugar beet planting allotment for producing states.

The agency originally had set such allotments at 885,000, then increased to 932,000 and later to 950,000 acres.

These increases were made to help meet rising demands.

The latest revision compared with the previous one, respectively, by states included Ohio 22,736 and 22,304.

neither city "has a place on their golf shore for such a boat. It would overshadow everything."

He said there were no objections at last week's meeting to plans by the owners, a Southern syndicate, to make of her a combination restaurant, theater and museum.

Atwood said the only remaining steps are U.S. Engineer permission for dredging a spot for her close to shore, and obtaining a sub-merged land lease.

The proud old craft, which carried cargo and passengers on nearly every river in the Ohio Valley, was retired in 1947 and sold in 1952.

Plans to make her a hotel at Portsmouth, Ohio, did not work out. As a restaurant in Owensboro, Ky., she was no success.

Then the new owners purchased her and started moving under tow down the Ohio to the Mississippi.

Right now, she's berthed at Addis, La., near Baton Rouge, where she is gainfully employed in filming of a motion picture.

When that's finished, it will take only a week or 10 days for the last trip across to a snug harbor in Bradenton.

Aldo Ray Converts Handicap Into Very Valuable Asset

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Aldo Ray is an object lesson in how to turn a handicap into an asset.

When you think of Aldo, you think of his voice. It sounds like a muted foghorn on the San Francisco Bay, which is where he grew up. His voice is his trademark, the thing that sets him apart from other actors.

Yet many people would consider his voice a handicap. And Aldo did too in his earlier years.

"My voice was normal until I was 9 years old," he recalled. "Then one day I was playing football with the bigger guys. They were teaching me how to tackle, showing me I should grab low at the ball carrier's legs."

"On one play, I took a dive at a guy's legs and his heel came up and hit me right in the Adam's apple. The breath was knocked out of me. I couldn't talk. I went home scared."

"For 24 hours I couldn't talk. My mother was frightened, but she couldn't afford to take me to a doctor. Those were depression days; a $2.50 doctor bill would have been a catastrophe. Eventually I was able to talk, but my voice was never the same."

His playmates in Crockett, Calif., often tormented him about his voice. Aldo got into many a battle over their taunts. But then he changed his attitude.

"People noticed my voice," he said. "I was always being chosen president of the class and captain of the team. I figured that the voice must be an advantage, that it called attention to me. So I decided to use it as an asset."

And he did. He continued winning honors in school. And he credits the voice for starting his acting career.

Northeast Ohio Sees Need To Tap Lake Erie Water

CLEVELAND (AP)—A recently completed year-long engineering survey shows that inland areas of northeastern Ohio must plan immediately to tap Lake Erie to meet their future water needs.

A report on the survey said the eight-county area around Cleveland will more than double present water usage by 1980 and faces a deficiency by that time of 1,150 million gallons a day, or 90 per cent of present usage.

The study was made for the Lake Erie Watershed Conservation Foundation and financed by a $17,500 Cleveland Foundation grant. It was conducted by the Stanley Engineering Co. of Chicago.

Offshore cribs near Avon Lake, Fairport and Ashtabula to serve pipeline and reservoir systems inland from those points were proposed by the engineering firm.

Initial construction of this project was estimated to cost 56 million dollars. The report said expansion to meet the needs by the year 2000 would boost the total cost to 200 million dollars.

The project was described as "economically feasible" by the Chicago firm.

Counties included in the survey are Cuyahoga, Ashtabula, Geauga, Lake, Lorain, Medina, Portage and Summit.

The report said the 1950 population of 2,139,500 in this area would be increased by 60 per cent in 1980 and 125 per cent in 2000. It was estimated that the present water demand of 1,281 million gallons daily would jump to 2,650 million by 1980 and 4,250 by 2000.

Untapped ground water supplies are "extremely limited," the report said.

"It is evident that, to meet future demands, the predominant future source of supply must be Lake Erie," it added. "The lake represents a convenient and virtually inexhaustible supply of relatively pure and soft, cold water."

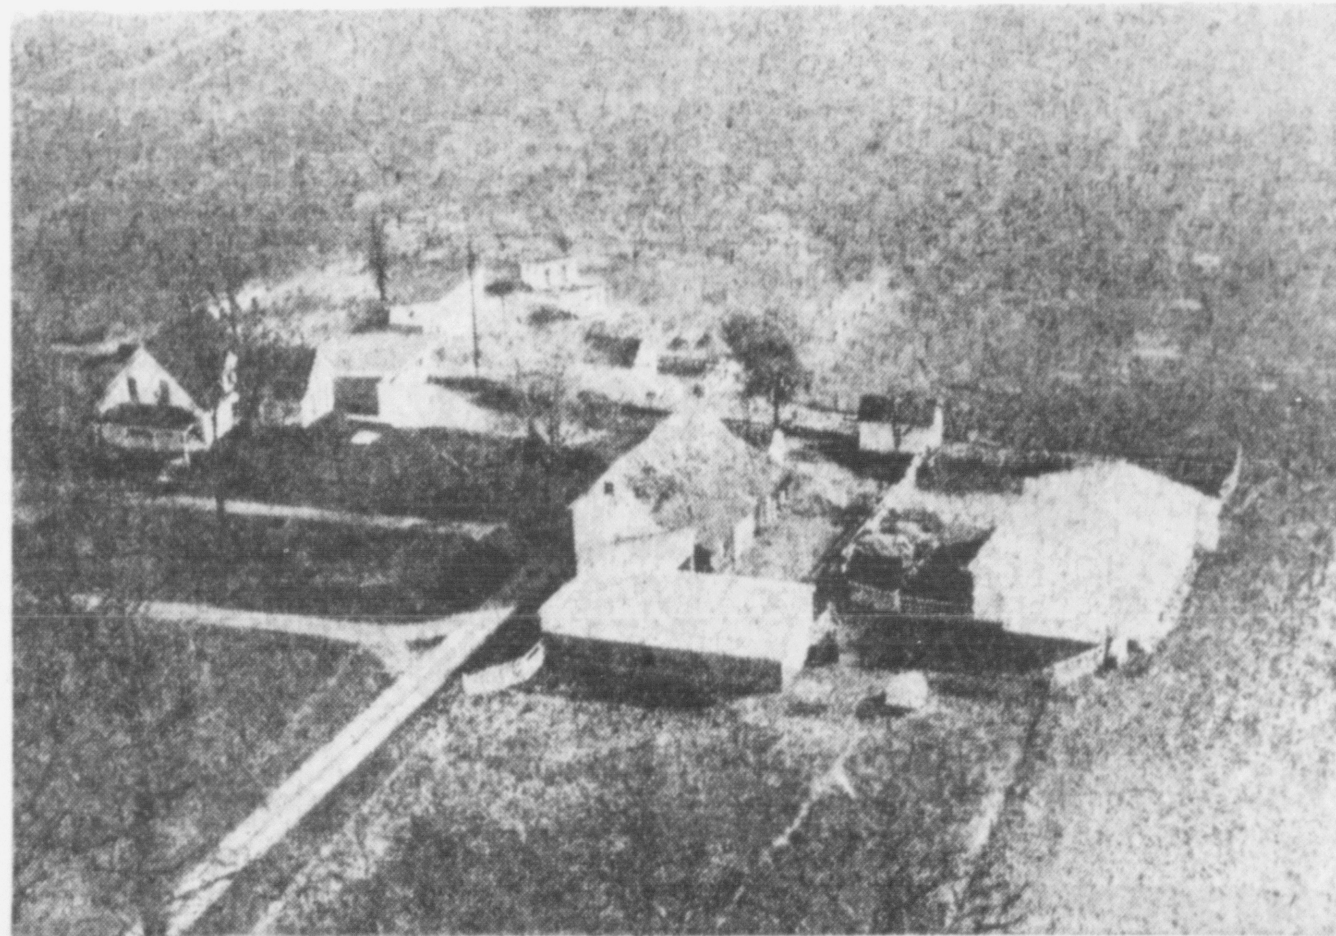

Engineer Frank W. Edwards said in his resume of the 66-page report that the Lake Erie source would be needed as early as 1959 in part of the area studied.

"Lake Erie water can be delivered to areas located away from the lake at reasonable costs which even now would be competitive with costs of water from other sources," Edwards continued.

The report pointed out that more than a third of the industrial plants of the state are located in the eight-county area surveyed.

"I'd Better Walk" was the name applied to the Indianapolis Bloomington and Western Railroad.

I once heard a railroader say that the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad was the "Delirium Tremens and Insomnia" road.

Oh, yes! I mustn't forget the branch of the DT&I which extended from Kingman, through Jeffersonville to Sedalia, and was torn up some 20 years ago. It was known as the "Grasshopper Division".

One report was that the name was applied because the locomotives ran backward one way over the route, and the other was that it was because the right-of-way was usually overgrown with grass and weeds and swarms of grasshoppers were started from the roadbed as the trains moved over the route.

WORLD PLOWING MATCHES

When the World Plowing Matches are held near Peebles, in Adams County, Sept. 17 to 20, inclusive, many Fayette County farmers will be among the thousands who attend the notable event. Expert plowmen from 22 nations will participate.

Mrs. Doris Wipert, who is on the Ohio State University staff of Farm Institute speakers, and delivered 11 addresses and four folk ballad programs with autoharp accompaniment in Adams County last week, brought back word of the elaborate plans being made for the plowing matches, in which Adams County officials, citizens and the State of Ohio are participating to insure success. The plans include a 200-foot air strip and field for accommodating the many airplanes expected at the meeting.

Mrs. Wipert stated that the whole county is enthused about the big contest being held in Adams County.

While in Adams County for the Farmers Institute addresses, Mrs. Wipert spent some time with Miss Ruth Engle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Engle, of the Snowhill Rd., who is Adams County's first home demonstration agent, and is progressing nicely with her work. She started her new duties there in September.

Incidentally Mrs. Wipert is scheduled to give a series of lectures before three institutes in Coshocton County this week.

DISEASED CATTLE KILLED

Some 30 years ago discovery was made that the fatal "hoof and mouth disease", which is communicable to human beings, I am told, had appeared in a herd of cattle owned by Talcott T. Beatty, who resided at Jasper Mills, 4 1/2 miles west of Washington C. H.

Veterinarians, including the state veterinarian, went into consultation with the owner, and it was decided to slaughter the entire herd and bury them in the field where they had been feeding.

A long trench was dug some eight or 10 feet in width and about the same depth, and the entire herd was shot and their bodies dumped into the trench, quick lime applied, and the 40 or 50 steers covered over. As I recall the state paid for the slaughtered cattle.

All animals were kept out of the field for sometime, and the premises were thoroughly disinfected, so that there was no new outbreak of the disease.

So far as I know it was the first and last appearance of the disease in Fayette County, and was brought here by cattle shipped in from the Southwest.

Ohio River Boat Finally Finds City to Have Her in Florida

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—It looks like the venerable Ohio River packet Gordon C. Greene has at last found a safe berth here in Florida.

A general citizen's meeting last week approved a zoning change to accommodate the craft, and only two minor steps remain before she can be brought here.

Yet it was only last month that a storm of protest arose over plans for present owners to dock the sternwheeler at Venice or Sarasota.

Sarasota resident, denounced plans to bring the colorful craft there, and in a Venice suburb, a group took out full-page newspaper advertisements saying they would fight the location.

But Bradenton apparently satisfied everyone. Kimb C. Atwood, whose land adjoins where the packet will be moored, said "We think the boat will be a good neighbor and we welcome her."

As to the protests, Atwood said:

Sugar Beet Planting Allotments Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has announced the second upward revision in 1957 sugar beet planting allotment for producing states.

The agency originally had set such allotments at 885,000, then increased to 932,000 and later to 950,000 acres.

These increases were made to help meet rising demands.

The latest revision compared with the previous one, respectively, by states included Ohio 22,736 and 22,304.

that neither city "has a place on their gulf shore for such a boat. It would overshadow everything."

He said there were no objections at last week's meeting to plans by the owners, a Southern syndicate, to make of her a combination restaurant, theater and museum.

Atwood said the only remaining steps are U.S. Engineer's permission for dredging a spot for her close to shore, and obtaining a submerged land lease.

The proud old craft, which carried cargo and passengers on nearly every river in the Ohio Valley, was retired in 1947 and sold in 1952.

Plans to make her a hotel at Portsmouth, Ohio, did not work out. As a restaurant at Owensboro, Ky., she was no success.

Then the new owners purchased her and started moving under tow down the Ohio to the Mississippi.

Right now, she's berthed at Addis, La., near Baton Rouge, where she is gainfully employed in filming of a motion picture.

When that's finished, it will take only a week or 10 days for the last trip across to a snug harbor at Bradenton.

Aldo Ray Converts Handicap Into Very Valuable Asset

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Aldo Ray is an object lesson in how to turn a handicap into an asset.

When you think of Aldo, you think of his voice. It sounds like a muted foghorn on the San Francisco Bay, which is where he grew up. His voice is his trademark, the thing that sets him apart from other actors.

Yet many people would consider his voice a handicap. And Aldo did too in his earlier years.

"My voice was normal until I was 9 years old," he recalled. "Then one day I was playing football with the bigger guys. They were teaching me how to tackle, showing me I should grab low at the ball carrier's legs."

"On one play, I took a dive at a guy's legs and his heel came up and hit me right in the Adam's apple. The breath was knocked out of me; I couldn't talk. I went home scared."

"For 24 hours I couldn't talk. My mother was frightened, but she couldn't afford to take me to a doctor. Those were depression days; a $2.50 doctor bill would have been a catastrophe. Eventually I was able to talk, but my voice was never the same."

His playmates in Crockett, Calif., often tormented him about his voice. Aldo got into many a battle over their taunts. But then he changed his attitude.

"People noticed my voice," he said, "I was always being chosen president of the class and captain of the team. I figured that the voice must be an advantage, that it called attention to me. So I decided to use it as an asset."

And he did. He continued winning honors in school. And he credits the voice for starting his acting career.

PORTSMOUTH (AP)—Burglars broke open four safes and made off with a total of $600 in two separate thefts here.

The burglaries were at the Knights of Pythias Hall and Phil Wolff's clothing store in downtown Portsmouth.

Three safes, containing $350 and belonging to John Newman, were broken open in the lodge hall. The clothing store safe contained $250.

Northeast Ohio Sees Need To Tap Lake Erie Water

CLEVELAND (AP)—A recently-completed year-long engineering survey shows that inland areas of northeastern Ohio must plan immediately to tap Lake Erie to meet their future water needs.

A report on the survey said the eight-county area around Cleveland will more than double present water usage by 1980 and faces a deficiency by that time of 1,150 million gallons a day, or 90 per cent of present usage.

The study was made for the Lake Erie Watershed Conservation Foundation and financed by a $17,500 Cleveland Foundation grant. It was conducted by the Stanley Engineering Co. of Chicago.

Offshore cribs near Avon Lake, Fairport and Ashtabula to serve pipeline and reservoir systems inland from those points were proposed by the engineering firm.

Initial construction of this project was estimated to cost 56 million dollars. The report said expansion to meet the needs by the year 2000 would boost the total cost to 200 million dollars.

The project was described as "economically feasible" by the Chicago firm.

Counties included in the survey are Cuyahoga, Ashtabula, Geauga, Lake, Lorain, Medina, Portage and Summit.

The report said the 1950 population of 2,139,500 in this area would be increased by 60 per cent in 1980 and 125 per cent in 2000. It was estimated that the present water demand of 1,281 million gallons daily would jump to 2,650 million by 1980 and 4,250 by 2000.

Untapped ground water supplies are "extremely limited," the report said.

"It is evident that, to meet future demands, the predominant future source of supply must be Lake Erie," it added. "The lake represents a convenient and virtually inexhaustible supply of relatively pure and soft, cold water."

Engineer Frank W. Edwards said in his resume of the 66-page report that the Lake Erie source would be needed as early as 1959 in part of the area studied.

"Lake Erie water can be delivered to areas located away from the lake at reasonable costs which even now would be competitive with costs of water from other sources," Edwards continued.

The report pointed out that more than a third of the industrial plants of the state are located in the eight-county area surveyed.

What Seems Likely To Happen In Congress

A great amount of interest is being shown by the public as to what the present Congress may do either to or for us before its session is over. We hear an unusual number of people in Fayette County talking about it.

It is pointed out by observers and by some publications that during the two years of its life, this Congress will take some kind of action affecting the life of nearly everyone in the nation, old and young, business and professional people, wage earners, farmers and school teachers.

It is to be presumed that the greater effort of the new Congress will be directed toward doing things for people, at home and abroad, but it may also do things to some people, especially taxpayers.

There are predictions being made that this is expected to be a big spending Congress, higher even than seemed in prospect not too long ago, because of recent and current world emergencies and still other emergencies of a potential character.

Military spending, obviously, will run at high levels. So will other spending designed to prevent the spread of Soviet power and influence. Total appropriations, so far as can be anticipated now, will be in the neighborhood of $72 billion a year for each of the two years of the 85th Congress' tenure.

This means that the outlook for tax cuts is not only dim, but black. There may be some changes and adjustments in the tax structure, but they will be of a comparatively minor character. No one now anticipates general tax reduction.

Observers and analysts are checking over what we may expect in the way of major legislation. Their general prognosis will please some, leave many with mixed emotions and bring severe criticism from others.

At this time proposals which experts are predicting as unlikely to pass include tax relief for small business; general aid for school building; a bill to ban filibusters; stronger civil rights legislation; tighter curbs on imports; the Bricker amendment; changes in Taft-Hartley; increased minimum wage; controls over union welfare funds; federal atomic power plants, and laws to loosen tight money.

Proposals which appear likely to pass include closing of some tax loopholes; bigger defense spending; new aids for depressed areas; increased drought relief and other agricultural aids; increased foreign aid; the bill to allow more refugees to enter this country; the President's request for authority to use troops if necessary in the Middle East; the end of the drafting of doctors for military forces; indemnities for damage due to atomic accidents; higher postal rates on letters; more federal money for mortgages; higher interest on GI mortgages and a broader federal health program.

There are, needless to say, varying degrees of "likelihood" and "unlikelihood" in a summing up such as this. Future changes in events could easily move a "likely" proposal to the "unlikely" column, and vice versa.

The underlying trend in Congress at this session is said to be to try to keep conditions quiet abroad and to improve the welfare of many groups at home.

Cold Germs Prefer Women

NEW YORK (AP)—Oddities found by a columnist during desk cleaning:

That women get twice as many colds as men, but how does this jibe with the fact that well-to-do people generally catch only half as many colds as the poor?

That if, during a cocktail party, you kiss a pretty blonde who has a cold, the odds are 9 to 1 you won't catch her cold. What you'll catch from your wife, if she sees you, is another matter.

That farmers suffer more colds than suburbanites, cautious old people suffer fewer than the young folks.

That January is national Take-Care-of-Your-Cold month.

That Dr. J. Schultz, head of a cosmetics firm, predicts that by the year 2,000 women will wear makeup that will last indefinitely and that one of the popular lipstick colors will be light blue!

That Mrs. Donna Workman, a Chicago business executive, says self-supporting working girls make the best wives. I've always said a wife enjoys life more working on a good-paying job than wasting her time hanging around pool halls.

That Santa Claus ranks not first but seventh in popularity as an adornment on the two billion Christmas cards Americans exchange annually. Now that the bills have rolled in, Santa probably is a candidate for the FBI's 10-most-wanted list.

That there is a growing shortage of skilled mechanics as well as engineers. In 1950 there were 73 cars to each mechanic, now the ratio is 81-to-1, by 1965 is expected to reach 90-to-1.

That Frederick Jones, the hair stylist who thought up the idea of tinting Kim Novak's locks a pale lavender, has now created an "Elvis Presley bob" for teenage girl fans of the singer. Now they not only can listen to their idol—they can also look like him!

That interior designer Lee Kelly says there is a trend away from desks and conference tables in executive business offices. In their place in the deskless office of the future he predicts: A soft chaise longue, conducive to "dynamic creative thought."

That contract bridge is now taught in at least 20 U. S. colleges and universities. With some 32 million players, it is ranked second only to canasta among card games. Everyone I know plays gin rummy? Am I living in the wrong circles?

Our Distinguished Guests

It used to be that the rulers stayed home and sent their ambassadors hither and yon to do their business. Nowadays the rulers have taken to travelling, particularly to this country and to Soviet Russia.

Ibn Saud, it is announced, is carrying 15 trunks of gifts for President Eisenhower which may include some valuable articles and also some junk. But a present begets a present, if only to show good manners. So what will Ibn Saud take back with him to please his 40 sons, to say nothing of the daughters, as indeed, one need say nothing of them, they being females without souls but perhaps delectable and soft even as of yore when they disported themselves in pavilions as is described in the "Arabian Nights"?

I note that the newspapers say that Ibn Saud has only four wives, which is a Koranic orthodoxy that requires in the West a literal translation of the word, wife. A concubine may be more beloved than a wife and even more useful.

I have seen no census of Ibn Saud's harem, but estimates put it at a hundred or so, which is good going. The largest number of wives and concubines for one man that I personally knew about in my younger years was 33, and once I was in great difficulties, as one of these exalted rulers of the earth, being pleased with me, and seeking to show how much favor I had gained in his eyes, presented me with one of his ladies.

But what does one do with such a damsel particularly if one is married and lives in a monogamous society that frowns on plural marriages unless they are sanctioned by the vicifications of a divorce court?

I was pulled out of my dilemma by a document with seals and stamps notifying all and sundry that it is criminal in my country to possess more than one woman, although no such restriction is placed on goats, camels and other quadrupeds.

Ibn Saud left his damsels at home to ride in the desert in golden Cadillacs and to disport themselves as well they may during his absence in the land of the rich infidel, who does not know the words of only true prophet, nor for that matter much else, except how to give away money to the sheriff of Mecca, may his tribe increase, as, indeed, it has.

Following upon Ibn Saud we shall be visited by Tito who shot down American planes, killing the Americans in them at a time when we were utterly at peace with him. Tito is a Communist dictator who pursues the cult of personality as it applies to himself but objects to it if applied to Stalin. He put Archbishop Stepinac and other clergymen in prison as a symbol of his defiance of God.

Nobody will really mind Ibn Saud, except that some will regret that he did not bring his harem along as it would be amusing to compare his ladies to Marilyn Monroe or Jayne Mansfield or some other whom that ardent sociologist, Lee Mortimer, describes in his numerous confidential manuscripts.

In New York City, it has been customary for the mayor to help the State Department out of its dilemma by entertaining these various luminaries. Part of the entertainment consists of a slow cavalcade from the city hall to the Waldorf Astoria, a matter of maybe five miles, after which a luncheon is served. It would be some danger to take Tito up those five miles because some Hibernian, to say nothing about Stalin's emissaries from hell, might get it into his head to do some foul deed to Josip Broz, alias Tito, who is a master of his people and who to date has got one billion dollars out of the American taxpayer.

Tito naturally wants more and now that his fraternal deals with Khrushchev have fallen through and Tito has no Communist allies, having been given a hot foot by Chou En-lai, he would undoubtedly like to get what he can in Washington, but with no strings attached.

What he gets, he wants to get free and clear. It is good going if you can make it, and Tito undoubtedly will as it is now our ambition to share our wealth with anyone who wants a share of it — and who doesn't?

Diabetics can Lead Fairly Normal Lives

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Thirsty all the time, even in this cold weather? I mean are you really thirsty? Do you gulp lots of water, milk and soft drinks between meals?

If you do, let me urge you to see your doctor. While there may be nothing seriously wrong, you may be a victim of diabetes without even being aware of it.

Needn't Be Fatal

Diabetes no longer need be a fatal disease — if you get medical help early enough. With insulin and prescribed diets, the majority of diabetics can, and do, live to a ripe old age.

A diabetic does not necessarily have to lead the life of an invalid. With proper treatment, he can probably live a normal or near normal life.

Other Symptoms

Unquenchable thirst is not always a symptom of diabetes, nor is it the only symptom. Be especially alert if your thirst is accompanied by a loss of weight despite an increased appetite, weakness, pains in the legs, a dry skin and a general feeling of nervousness and irritability.

Frequent urination sometimes is a symptom, particularly if the urine causes great discomfort.

If you have frequent boils or ulcers on your feet, be sure to have your doctor check you for diabetes whether or not any of the other symptoms are present.

Sometimes the only complaint a patient will have as the condition progresses is loss of pep and uncontrolled drowsiness.

Children and Adults

Who gets diabetes? Both children and adults can be victims.

But most diabetics are persons of middle age who have been hearty eaters for years and, generally, they are overweight. Since diabetes tends to run in families, any of you whose parents suffered from the disease may be more vulnerable.

A word of caution—let me urge you not to overeat. Be especially careful to avoid eating too much starch and sweet foods. Get a lot of fruit and green and yellow vegetables. Also, have a physical checkup at least once a year.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators appear ready to review — perhaps investigate — handling of Middle East problems by both the Eisenhower and Truman administrations. Neither is going to come out of this looking brilliant.

Both have pumped aid into the area. Both have done some piecemeal planning. Both played by ear. Neither can be said to have had a real Middle East policy.

The new Eisenhower program — judging from the vagueness of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles on what it will do and how — seems less a policy than an appearance of action until a policy can be worked out.

The reasons for Middle East turmoil and lack of planning for long-range solutions by both administrations have roots that are complex and deep. They go far back and involve some American failures.

For example: Both administrations have failed to live up to the 1950 U. S. - British - French agreement that the three allies would take "immediate action" to stop violation of frontiers or armistice lines by Arabs or Israelis. Those violations have been committed constantly by Jews and Arabs.

Neither administration came close to working out a solution for the resettlement of the 900,000 Arab refugees from the Arab-Israeli war of 1948. They are still homeless, scattered in Arab countries around Israel's borders.

Most of the 70 million Arabs live under wretched conditions, cause enough for unrest. But their rulers, suspicious of one another, are united only in their hatred of the new Jewish state of Israel created in 1948.

Arab intellectuals and students are discontented. They recognize the condition of their people, the absence of solutions, and the lack of opportunity and security for Arabs in general and themselves in particular.

The West's need for oil is one reason it can't afford to let communism have the Middle East. But little wealth trickles down to the masses from the fortunes in revenues handed over yearly by the oil companies to the ruling dynasties.

Most Middle East observers will probably agree the best hope for a solution is in long-range planning. Congress is opposed to neither the Truman nor Eisenhower administration has bucked Congress on this.

Even if they did, the lack of stability in Middle East governments would be a primary stumbling block to giving long-term aid. If this dilemma can be solved, it will be an international miracle. That's the economic background.

Meanwhile, Arab rulers like Egypt's President Nasser use a political device to divert their people's attention from the failure of the leadership to improve their condition or give them a sense of security.

They do it by appealing to their people's nationalism, their hatred of colonialism, and their prejudices against the Jews of Israel. But the nationalist and anti-colonial themes would be invalidated if they didn't have strong foundations in fact and memory.

The Arabs don't have to remember any further back than the years after World War I when the British and French sought to control and dominate the Middle East, and did for a good while.

So long as this country's two allies were a forceful influence in the area it could afford to sit back and not worry about the approach of communism. To push into the Middle East then might have jeopardized the Western alliance.

The Truman and Eisenhower administrations apparently felt compelled even to avoid criticizing the colonialism of its allies for fear of alienating them. But the failure to do so, in the eyes of many Arabs, could only help identify the United States as a supporter of colonialism if no outright colonialist.

But the fiasco of the British French attack on Egypt, the new hatred it engendered for the West and the new good will it brought to Russia shocked this country into realizing it needed to act to face disaster.

New York City Bans Welcomes For Saud, Tito

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner has barred an official city welcome for King Saud of Saudi Arabia, who arrived today en route to Washington for conferences with President Eisenhower.

The mayor also has banned any city welcome of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia ever visits here.

Wagner said: "There appears to be two visits by foreign rulers that may begin here."

"One of these is the dictator of Yugoslavia. We don't want him in New York because he's a Communist and because he's anti-religious. As far as we're concerned he'll get no consideration here."

A diabetic does not necessarily have to lead the life of an invalid. With proper treatment, he can probably live a normal or near normal life.

Other Symptoms

Unquenchable thirst is not always a symptom of diabetes, nor is it the only symptom. Be especially alert if your thirst is accompanied by a loss of weight despite an increased appetite, weakness, pains in the legs, a dry skin and a general feeling of nervousness and irritability.

Frequent urination sometimes is a symptom, particularly if the urine causes great discomfort.

If you have frequent boils or ulcers on your feet, be sure to have your doctor check you for diabetes whether or not any of the other symptoms are present.

Sometimes the only complaint a patient will have as the condition progresses is loss of pep and uncontrolled drowsiness.

Children and Adults

Who gets diabetes? Both children and adults can be victims. But most diabetics are persons of middle age who have been hearty eaters for years and, generally, they are overweight. Since diabetes tends to run in families, any of you whose parents suffered from the disease may be more vulnerable.

A word of caution—let me urge you not to overeat. Be especially careful to avoid eating too much starch and sweet foods. Get a lot of fruit and green and yellow vegetables. Also, have a physical checkup at least once a year.

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON —

Senators appear ready to review — perhaps investigate — handling of Middle East problems by both the Eisenhower and Truman administrations. Neither is going to come out of this looking brilliant.

Both have pumped aid into the area. Both have done some piecemeal planning. Both played by ear. Neither can be said to have had a real Middle East policy.

The new Eisenhower program — judging from the vagueness of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles on what it will do and how — seems less a policy than an appearance of action until a policy can be worked out.

The reasons for Middle East turmoil and lack of planning for long-range solutions by both administrations have roots that are complex and deep. They go far back and involve some American failures.

For example: Both administrations have failed to live up to the 1950 U.S. — British — French agreement that the three allies would take "immediate action" to stop violation of frontiers or armistices by Arabs or Israelis. Those violations have been committed constantly by Jews and Arabs.

Neither administration came close to working out a solution for the resettlement of the 900,000 Arab refugees from the Arab-Israeli war of 1948. They are still homeless, scattered in Arab countries around Israel's borders.

Most of the 70 million Arabs live under wretched conditions, cause enough for unrest. But their rulers, suspicious of one another, are united only in their hatred of the new Jewish state of Israel created in 1948.

Arab intellectuals and students are discontented. They recognize the condition of their people, the absence of solutions, and the lack of opportunity and security for Arabs in general and themselves in particular.

The West's need for oil is one reason it can't afford to let communism have the Middle East. But little wealth trickles down to the masses from the fortunes in revenues handed over yearly by the oil companies to the ruling dynasties.

Most Middle East observers will probably agree the best hope for a solution is in long-range planning. Congress is opposed to neither the Truman nor Eisenhower administration has bucked Congress on this.

Even if they did, the lack of stability in Middle East governments would be a primary stumbling block to giving long-term aid. If this dilemma can be solved, it will be an international miracle. That's the economic background.

Meanwhile, Arab rulers like Egypt's President Nasser use a political device to divert their people's attention from the failure of the leadership to improve their condition or give them a sense of security.

They do it by appealing to their people's nationalism, their hatred of colonialism, and their prejudices against the Jews of Israel. But the nationalist and anti-colonial themes would be invalidated if they didn't have strong foundations in fact and memory.

The Arabs don't have to remember any further back than the years after World War I when the British and French sought to control and dominate the Middle East, and did for a good while.

So long as this country's two allies were a forceful influence in the area it could afford to sit back and not worry about the approach of communism. To push into the Middle East then might have jeopardized the Western alliance.

The Truman and Eisenhower administrations apparently felt compelled even to avoid criticizing the colonialism of its allies for fear of alienating them. But the failure to do so, in the eyes of many Arabs, could only help identify the United States as a supporter of colonialism if not outright colonialist.

But the fiasco of the British-French attack on Egypt, the new hatred it engendered for the West and the new good will it brought to Russia shocked this country into realizing it needed to act or face disaster.

New York City Bans Welcomes For Saud, Tito

NEW YORK — Mayor Robert F. Wagner has barred an official city welcome for King Saud of Saudi Arabia, who arrived today en route to Washington for conferences with President Eisenhower.

The mayor also has banned any city welcome of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia ever visits here.

Wagner said: "There appears to be two visits by foreign rulers that may begin here."

"One of these is the dictator of Yugoslavia. We don't want him in New York because he's a Communist and because he's anti-religious. As far as we're concerned he'll get no consideration here."

"And the same goes for Saudi, and double, too."

Cold Germs Prefer Women

found by a columnist during desk cleaning:

That women get twice as many colds as men, but how does this jibe with the fact that well-to-do people generally catch only half as many colds as the poor?

That if, during a cocktail party, you kiss a pretty blonde who has a cold, the odds are 9 to 1 you won't catch her cold. What you'll catch from your wife, if she sees you, is another matter.

That farmers suffer more colds than suburbanites, cautious old people suffer fewer than the young folks.

That January is national Take-Care-of-Your-Cold month.

That Dr. J. Schultz, head of a cosmetics firm, predicts that by the year 2,000 women will wear makeup that will last indefinitely and that one of the popular lipstick colors will be light blue!

That Mrs. Donna Workman, a Chicago business executive, says self-supporting working girls make the best wives. I've always said a wife enjoys life more working on a good-paying job than wasting her time hanging around pool halls.

That Santa Claus ranks not first but seventh in popularity as an adornment on the two billion Christmas cards Americans exchange annually. Now that the bills have rolled in, Santa probably is a candidate for the FBI's 10-most-wanted list.

That there is a growing shortage of skilled mechanics as well as engineers. In 1950 there were 73 cars to each mechanic, now the ratio is 81-to-1, by 1965 is expected to reach 90-to-1.

That Frederick Jones, the hair stylist who thought up the idea of tinting Kim Novak's locks a pale lavender, has now created an "Elvis Presley bob" for teenage girl fans of the singer. Now they not only can listen to their idol—they can also look like him!

That interior designer Lee Kelly says there is a trend away from desks and conference tables in executive business offices. In their place in the deskless office of the future he predicts: A soft chaise longue, conducive to "dynamic creative thought."

That contract bridge is now taught in at least 20 U. S. colleges and universities. With some 32 million players, it is ranked second only to canasta among card games. Everyone I know plays gin rummy? Am I owing in the wrong circles?

to possess more than one woman, although no such restriction is placed on goats, camels and other quadrupeds.

Ibn Saud left his damsels at home to ride in the desert in golden Cadillacs and to disport themselves as well they may during his absence in the land of the rich infidel, who does not know the words of only true prophet, nor for that matter much else, except how to give away money to the sheriff of Mecca, may his tribe increase, as, indeed, it has.

Following upon Ibn Saud we shall be visited by Tito who shot down American planes, killing the Americans in them at a time when we were utterly at peace with him. Tito is a Communist dictator who pursues the cult of personality as it applies to himself but objects to it if applied to Stalin. He put Archbishop Stepinac and other clergymen in prison as a symbol of his defiance of God.

Nobody will really mind Ibn Saud, except that some will regret that he did not bring his harem along as it would be amusing to compare his ladies to Marilyn Monroe or Jayne Mansfield or some others whom that ardent sociologist, Lee Mortimer, describes in his numerous confidential manuscripts.

In New York City, it has been customary for the mayor to help the State Department out of its dilemma by entertaining these various luminaries. Part of the entertainment consists of a slow cavalcade from the city hall to the Waldorf Astoria, a matter of maybe five miles, after which a luncheon is served. It would be some danger to take Tito up those five miles because some Hibernian, to say nothing about Stalin's emissaries from hell, might get it into his head to do some foul deed to Josip Broz, alias Tito, who is a master of his people and who to date has got one billion dollars out of the American taxpayer.

Tito naturally wants more and now that his fraternal deals with Khrushchev have fallen through and Tito has no Communist allies, having been given a hot foot by Chou En-lai, he would undoubtedly like to get what he can in Washington, but with no strings attached.

What he gets, he wants to get free and clear. It is good going if you can make it, and Tito undoubtedly will as it is now our ambition to share our wealth with anyone who wants a share of it — and who doesn't?

CHEETAH IS NEATEST EATER

ONE OF THE NEWEST ARRIVALS at the Bronx Zoo, New York, is this cheetah, a member of the cat family that is believed to be the fastest animal on four legs. They have been clocked at 75 miles-per-hour. This one has become the pet of keeper Kenneth Jahn and likes to take tidbits of meat from Jahn's mouth as shown. (International)

Diet and Health

Thirsty all the time, even in this cold weather? I mean are you really thirsty? Do you gulp lots of water, milk and soft drinks between meals?

If you do, let me urge you to see your doctor. While there may be nothing seriously wrong, you may be a victim of diabetes without even being aware of it.

Diabetics can Lead Fairly Normal Lives

Diabetes no longer need be a fatal disease — if you get medical help early enough. With insulin and prescribed diets, the majority of diabetics can, and do, live to a ripe old age.

A diabetic does not necessarily have to lead the life of an invalid. With proper treatment, he can probably live a normal or near normal life.

Other Symptoms

Unquenchable thirst is not always a symptom of diabetes, nor is it the only symptom. Be especially alert if your thirst is accompanied by a loss of weight despite an increased appetite, weakness, pains in the legs, a dry skin and a general feeling of nervousness and irritability.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a college man, 22, in love with a college girl a year behind me. We have been dating regularly since we met a year ago, and find we have the same basic values, interests and family background.

The problem for me is that prior to our meeting, Jane had another suitor, who is now in the Army. They have been corresponding during our whole acquaintance; and, since we've grown exceedingly close, her continuing friendship with him has made me extremely jealous.

We have discussed the subject and Jane claims she can't be sure of anything until he is home to stay; and by then I will be just starting my military service.

Partly because of my jealousy, and partly because her old beau was coming home on leave, I suggested (before the holidays) that we stop dating for two months. I figured this would give her a chance to decide which way Cupid's arrow points; and that it might lead either to a complete break between us, or bind us together in mutual love.

Although this separation seemed to bring us even closer together, Jane admits that she is still confused. She did confess, however, that "things weren't the same" with the other man; although she said "three weeks is hardly sufficient time to know."

I am sure she is sincere, but I can't help feeling she is clinging to a memory more than a reality. I know she wants to be fair, but her indecision is making me pretty resentful.

DEAR D. J.: As I see the picture, when Jane met you she was "in love" with the other man—maybe because he kept her in uncertainty. And she more or less hung on to him by letters while also dating you this past year, in a "rebound" state of mind.

Your devotion was an anchor of sorts to her; and maybe she also hoped that her dating alliance with you might spur the other man into positive planning. In any case, you "fell in love" with her partly because you sensed she wasn't really available—her heart was involved elsewhere—hence it was a challenge to you, to beat the opposition if possible.

As of now, it seems the old admirer is as elusive as ever, or maybe more so; and that he and Jane are in fact growing farther apart—due, perhaps, to interim romancing in his life, as well as hers, since he's been away. Their latest stock-taking leaves Jane still in suspense, and again indecisive about what to do.

As for your sentiments—I doubt that you'd be pressing so urgently for explicit title to her heart, if you felt you had a clear field. It is my impression that both you and Jane are unduly dependent types she clinging to you, you clinging to her, for emotional security of sorts, and as joint defense against the possibility of having to be self-reliant socially.

Likely it is anxious self-interest, not real love of Jane, that makes you so jealous and managerial in the situation. At your age, with your military service still ahead, you probably don't aim to marry for years. So, why don't you relax, and stop trying to run other people's lives, and just be grateful for here-and-now fellowship with your girl.

St. Lawrence Power Job Is On Schedule

NEW YORK (AP)—Completion of heavy construction work on the St. Lawrence River power project by the end of 1957 is forecast by the New York State Power Authority.

Another goal cited was the opening of the St. Lawrence River between Montreal and Lake Ontario to 27-foot draft vessels at the start of the 1959 navigation season.

These and several other predictions were contained in an illustrated 52-page progress report prepared by the authority for Gov. Averell Harriman and the state legislature.

In making the report, Public Authority Chairman Robert Moses said progress on the vast project is proceeding on schedule. The report covered the authority's activities since June 1954 when the U. S. Supreme Court cleared the way for the joint project with Ontario.

"If progress in 1957 is as substantially the 1956 rate," Moses said, "we shall be able to report at the end of 1957 that the bulk of the heavy construction has been completed."

Overall completion of the multi-million-dollar project is scheduled for 1959.

Various sections of the U.S. portion of the St. Lawrence power project are half completed as is the Canadian half, Moses said.

Man Is Accused In Mate's Death

CLEVELAND (AP)—Second degree murder charges have been filed against Edward Kern, 47, in the slaying of his wife, Marie, Saturday night.

Kern said he was cleaning his .38 caliber pistol when it accidentally discharged.

Police said two shots were fired and that one struck Mrs. Kern in the face and the other lodged in a wall.

As for your sentiments—I doubt that you'd be pressing so urgently for explicit title to her heart, if you felt you had a clear field. It is my impression that both you and Jane are unduly dependent types she clinging to you, you clinging to her, for emotional security of sorts, and as joint defense against the possibility of having to be self-reliant socially.

Likely it is anxious self-interest,

PAINTING OVER PLASTER

If you wish to cover plaster with a pastel color, usually a primer tinted toward the final color is the only undercoating needed. Allow primer plenty of time to dry thoroughly before applying the finish coat. A deep color, however, over plaster requires a primer coat first, then a sealer tinted toward the finish coat. Dark colors always require a more complete sealing job due to the variation of the suction in the plaster.

Want your walls and trim all the same color to assure that uninterrupted look? We'll mix matching flat finish and enamels for you... in any color you wish.

University Prof Runs TV Winnings Up to $122,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles Van Doren, a 44-year-old English instructor at Columbia University, Monday night boosted his winnings to $122,000 on NBC's television program "Twenty-One."

Van Doren, a 30-year-old bachelor, has until Feb. 11 to decide whether he'll try to increase his winnings. There is no limit. A special show will replace "Twenty-One" next week, giving Van Doren an extra week to think it over.

PAINTING OVER PLASTER

If you wish to cover plaster with a pastel color, usually a primer tinted toward the final color is the only undercoating needed. Allow primer plenty of time to dry thoroughly before applying the finish coat. A deep color, however, over plaster requires a primer coat first, then a sealer tinted toward the finish color. Dark colors always require a more complete sealing job due to the variation of the suction in the plaster.

Want your walls and trim all the same color to assure that uninterrupted look? We'll mix matching flat finish and enamel for you... in any color you wish.

Dulles Makes No Plans To Quit His Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is reported to have no intention of resigning despite mounting attacks on his handling of U. S. foreign policy.

Associates said today he has been somewhat stung by the sudden fury of assaults on him the last week during Senate hearings on President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution, but is nevertheless confident he can weather the storm.

He believes he has Eisenhower's continued backing and confidence, they said, as well as that of top Republican leaders in Congress. Some of these already have spoken up in his defense.

Despite verbal battering, the secretary, who underwent a major cancer operation less than three months ago, has suffered no apparent physical ill effects. He believes he has enough stamina to continue to direct policy.

Two highly unpredictable factors could upset his determination to stay on: a breakdown in his health and a possible future Eisenhower decision he has become so controversial as to become a major political liability. Neither is now anticipated.

Eisenhower's continued confidence in Dulles may rest heavily on the Secretary's ability to patch up strained relations with those who accused him of avoiding direct replies while under questioning.

Army Introduces Its New Missile

NEW YORK (AP)—The Army today announced a new guided missile, the LaCrosse, and showed movies of it.

Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, chief of Army research and development, described LaCrosse as "a deadly accurate missile for close tactical support of ground troops in the field."

A separate Army news release called it a "field artillery guided missile."

Gavin said: "LaCrosse is an all-weather guided missile capable of destroying enemy strong points in the field to supplement air or artillery attack."

Republican Women Here Told Keep Informed To Hold Interest

Mrs. Wayne Black of Avon Lake (Lorain County), who is connected with the state attorney general's office in Columbus and active in Republican affairs, told members of the Fayette County Republican Women's Club that one of the best ways to keep interest in their party alive between election campaigns is to keep informed on public affairs.

Mrs. Black was the principal speaker following Monday night's dinner meeting of the club at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church.

Her suggestion came at the conclusion of her talk on "Time," in which she said "most of the work of the world is done by people of average intelligence because they make good use of their time."

"What you do with your time," she declared, "is what counts."

She described time as a "river made up of events which flow by for a day and go on into history."

TO CARRY out her suggestion that the Republican women can keep up interest in their party in non-election years by keeping informed on public affairs, Mrs. Black recommended that meetings of the club be held regularly for discussions and that talks on current topics be given by either members or guest speakers.

She extended a blanket invitation to members to come to Columbus to see the state government in operation. She told them she would go with them through the state capitol and state offices and to a session of the Legislature.

At the conclusion of her talk and at the insistence of the group, Mrs. Black sang "Now the Day is Over." Mrs. Charles S. Hire played the accompaniment. Mrs. Black has done considerable singing in public and, apparently, the club members knew of it in making their request.

DESPITE the icy roads and fog, 90 women were at the meeting which started with the 6:30 p. m. dinner. A spokesman for the committee said that if any reservation were cancelled, others had come in to take them. The committee expressed gratification over the response, especially since it was on a night when several other meetings had been called off because of the weather.

Mrs. Garnet Huston presided over the meeting, which was opened with the invocation by Mrs. Emma Kelly. Mrs. Wendell Whiteside gave a brief report on the club's activities since it was organized last August at the start of the election campaign. Mrs. Charles Wagner reported on the condition of the treasury and Mrs. Dwight Bell, chairman of the membership committee, said the club had 265 members last year and that it was hoped they would all continue through the new year now getting under way.

Mrs. Hire, chairman of the program committee, introduced Mrs. Black.

The club's next meeting is April 15.

Marble Kills Tot

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Larry Barnhart, 18 months, of nearby Porterfield, Ohio, died here Monday after an emergency operation to remove a large marble the boy had swallowed.

In the three years between 1953 and 1956, schools in the United States had to enroll an extra million students of kindergarten age each season.

Stranded Rail Aides Drawing Overtime Pay

ALAMOSA, Colo. (AP)—Collecting pay at overtime rates 23 railroaders waited today in a tiny station atop 10,022-foot Cumbres Pass for a relief train, to plow out 20-foot snowdrifts that have stranded them since Saturday.

The station is amply stocked with food and fuel, Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad officials said, and the men are receiving time and one-half pay for all hours beyond the first eight since they left Chama, N. M., Saturday.

The 23 were aboard a two-engine work train sent to clear snow from the narrow gauge branch line along the Colorado-New Mexico border. The train stalled near the summit of the pass.

A relief snowplow chugged up the pass from Chama Monday to release another stalled work train with 12 men aboard. The rescue train returned to Chama after failing to break through a snowslide clogged with rocks and trees a mile west of the summit.

The railroad agent at Chama, Amos J. Rodva, reported there is 24 inches of snow on the pass. The Weather Bureau at Albuquerque said this is a record. The previous mark was 156 inches on March 14, 1952.

The branch line is used for hauling freight between Alamosa and Durango, Colo. Mainline operations of the Rio Grande are not affected.

Phi Beta Psi sponsored the bloodmobile's visit here just a year ago, when 180 pints were donated.

VIRTUALLY the same staff of aides, clerical workers, nurses and physicians will help the regular bloodmobile staff again Feb. 6. Food for the lunches that are always served to the donors before they leave will again be donated. Through years of experience, it was said, most of the donors have learned what not to eat before they go to the bloodmobile.

Stranded Rail Aides Drawing Overtime Pay

ALAMOSA, Colo. (AP)—Collecting pay at overtime rates, 23 railroaders waited today in a tiny station atop 10,022-foot Cumbres Pass for a relief train to blow out 20-foot snowdrifts that have stranded them since Saturday.

The station is amply stocked with food and fuel, Denver & Rio Grande Western Railroad officials said, and the men are receiving time and one-half pay for all hours beyond the first eight since they left Chama, N. M., Saturday.

The 23 were aboard a two-engine work train sent to clear snow from the narrow gauge branch line along the Colorado-New Mexico border. The train stalled near the summit of the pass.

A relief snowplow chugged up the pass from Chama Monday to release another stalled work train with 12 men aboard. The rescue train returned to Chama after failing to break through a snowslide clogged with rocks and trees a mile west of the summit.

The railroad agent at Chama, Amos C. Rodva, reported there is 240 inches of snow on the pass. The Weather Bureau at Albuquerque said this is a record. The previous mark was 156 inches on March 14, 1952.

The branch line is used for hauling freight between Alamosa and Durango, Colo. Mainline operations of the Rio Grande are not affected.

Bloodmobile Visit

(Continued from Page One) serve two purposes: (1) minimize delay for donors who want to come at a given time and (2) simplify planning for the donors who come without appointments, the "walk-ins," as they are called. Phi Beta Psi sponsored the bloodmobile's visit here just a year ago, when 180 pints were donated.

VIRTUALLY the same staff of aides, clerical workers, nurses and physicians will help the regular bloodmobile staff again Feb. 6. Food for the lunches that are always served to the donors before they leave will again be donated. Through years of experience, it was said, most of the donors have learned what not to eat before they go to the bloodmobile.

Ohio Church Council Calling For End to Horse Racing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Council of Churches Monday night called for an end to horse racing in Ohio.

Gambling in general, but horse racing in particular, came under the council's fire during a business meeting of the Ohio Pastor's Convention. The four-day convention is being held in the Franklin County Veterans Memorial here.

A resolution adopted at the business session declared:

"The assembly of the Ohio Council of Churches opposes gambling and particularly censures the gambling conducted under the Horse Racing Act by which the State of Ohio purports to license and supervise gambling, and, in reality, shares the profits of such gambling by way of a tax thereon."

The Assembly instructed its executive committee to work for repeal of the Horse Racing Act, or to look for means to test its constitutionality.

In another resolution, the Assembly praised the people of Ohio for providing food, clothing and homes for Hungarian refugees.

A third resolution protested what the Assembly termed "violence and discrimination" against the Koinonia Community, and interracial Christian community near Americus, Ga.

Earlier in Monday's program, some 1,500 ministers heard addresses by a number of leading religious, academic and civic leaders.

J. Earnest Wilkins, assistant U. S. Secretary of Labor discussed "the Christian approach to international labor relations."

"The first thing that we should do," he told the convention "is to see that people who go aboard to the greatest extent possible behave like decent Christian citizens. . . ."

Cincinnati Man Nabbed in Death Of Dancing Wife

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police early today captured Edwin F. Smith, 38-year-old ironworker sought in the "rock 'n' roll" shotgun slaying of his wife.

Officers said Smith was seized at his home when he alighted from a taxi.

Police sought Smith since Sunday when his wife, Mary Jean, 26, died of wounds suffered in a shotgun blast that struck her under the heart. The shooting took place Jan. 21 at her mother's home.

Investigators said he admitted shooting his wife because she got "this Elvis Presley rock 'n' roll jag and wouldn't tend to the kids"—their two children, age 3 and 5.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—John Beckett Jr., 32, of East Lynne, W. Va., was sentenced to 10 years in prison Monday by Federal Judge Mel G. Underwood.

Beckett was charged with altering money orders, possession of counterfeit plates and interstate transportation of forged securities.

Beckett's common-law wife, Lucille Fortner, 29, pleaded guilty to interstate transportation of forged securities but sentencing in her case was delayed pending probationary investigation.

Big U. S. Banks Putting On More 'Weight'

21 Financial Giants Report Their Assets As over $1 Billion

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's big banks are putting on more weight. This is a sidelight of the banking scene as governmental reviews of financial and banking policies are talked up.

There are now 21 with assets of one billion dollars or more each—one more than a year ago. Together the assets of the 21 total 62½ billion dollars, a gain in the year of 1½ billion.

Nineteen of these banks also have deposits in excess of one billion dollars. But many report total deposits lower than a year ago and some have raised the interest rates they pay in an attempt to lure savers back.

Their loans and profits have grown much more than their assets. This is true of most banks.

Commercial and industrial loans of member banks reporting to the federal reserve system—include banks of all sizes—rose by 18 per cent during 1956 to a record 30½ billion dollars.

Since interest rates on loans rose during the year, too, the earnings of the banks swelled by 10 to 20 per cent. When deposits weren't high enough to supply the money needed to meet the demands of business for loans, banks sold some of their government securities to raise cash. This helped depress the price of these bonds during the latter part of the year.

The top 21 are scattered across the country. Eight are in New York, three in San Francisco, two each in Chicago, Philadelphia and Detroit, and one each in Boston, Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Los Angeles.

Eight of the 21 reported a very slight dip in total assets in the year, but the other 13 gained enough to more than offset this. The West Coast's giant Bank of America with its wide flung branch system leads as it has for several years. Its assets climbed 322 million dollars in the year to total just under 10 billion.

'Intrusion' by FBI Brings Conviction Reversal for Red

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has reversed the conviction of Ben Gold on charges of filing a false non-Communist oath under the Taft-Hartley Act.

The court divided 6-3 in ordering a new trial for the Russian-born former president of the International Fur and Leatherworkers Union.

Gold's conviction was reversed "because of official intrusion into the privacy of the jury."

Near the close of the government's case in Gold's trial in U. S. District Court here, FBI agents contacted three members of the jury or their families in connection with an unrelated case.

The Supreme Court said in a brief unsigned order the fact that the intrusion was "unintentional" does not remove the effect of the intrusion.

Justice Reed wrote a brief dissenting opinion, in which Justices Burton and Clark joined. Clark wrote a similar dissenting opinion in his own name.

Gold received a prison sentence of one to three years. The U. S. Court of Appeals here last March upheld the conviction by a 4-4 tie vote.

The jury convicted Gold on charges of falsely denying he was a Communist party member and a supporter of its policies when he signed the non-Red oath in August 1950.

An avowed Communist for 30 years and a one-time member of the party's central committee, Gold announced his resignation from the party a few days before he signed the oath.

The government contended the resignation was without real meaning.

Gold resigned as President of the Fur and Leather Workers in October 1954. The union since has been merged into a meatcutters union.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The chief of industrial relations for manufacturing in the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio will begin a two-year assignment in mid-February as assistant to the manager of employee relations for the Iranian Oil Exploration and Producing Co. and the Iranian Oil Refining Co. at Tehran, Iran.

While John Paul Jones is away on this temporary assignment, Charles H. King III will succeed him in Cleveland at Sohio's home office. King will be replaced as senior staff assistant in industrial relations at the Lima refinery by Oliver M. Smart, who has been staff assistant at the Sohio refinery here.

Chrysler Is Sued After Car Mishap

TOLEDO (AP)—The Automobile Club Insurance Co. of Columbus has filed suit against Chrysler Corp. in federal court here in connection with an auto accident in which a Sylvania woman was injured.

The insurance company wants liability fixed on Chrysler on grounds the rear axle of a Chrysler automobile "disintegrated," causing the car to overturn.

Robert C. Palicki and his wife, Anna, had purchased the car new in September, 1954, and the accident occurred two years later in Tennessee.

Mrs. Palicki asked for $7,500 for personal injuries; Palicki asked for $166 in damages and the insurance company asked for $757 in repairs.

In the two billion asset class are First National of Chicago, Continental Illinois of Chicago, National of Detroit.

strong competition from other types of investment for the savers' dollars.

Road to Ohio Cage Glory Is Getting Steep

At Least 5 Top Teams
See Records Sullied
First Time This Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The road to Ohio's high school basketball heights is getting steeper.

At least five teams—three in the top 10—saw their Class AA records sullied for the first time last week, and The Associated Press ratings were jumbled by the impact.

The swashbuckling deeds of Columbus East in the last two weeks sent the former state champs into 10th place in the poll despite a 7.5 record—the poorest ever to ease into the elite list.

Two weeks ago the Capital City club defeated Lockland Wayne's Class A powerhouse and then forced champion Middletown into an overtime before surrendering. Last week East banged into second place Columbus North and emerged with a 52-50 double-overtime conquest.

Zanesville, fourth last week with 12 straight, was halted 68-63 by Newark, and Tiffin Columbian's seventh-placers stopped at 11 as sixth-place Shelby triumphed 69-65.

Other big sprees to end were Cincinnati Roger Bacon's 11-game streak in a 59-57 overtime at the hands of Joe Martin's Lockland Wayne team, and Toledo Clay's 11-game stretch, which foundered on a 48-39 loss to Toledo Whitmer.

Dave Murray of Steubenville's unbeaten Big Red also saw a long streak end. He missed his first free throw against Bellaire St. John after making 25 in a row. The Big Red didn't miss it, however, as it triumphed 96-69 for its 10th conquest.

One streak everyone was glad to see end was a string of 32 straight losses suffered by Cumberland of Guernsey County. The team hadn't won since the opener of the 1955-56 campaign, but Myron Rhinehart scored 30 points to clinch a 68-58 verdict over Senecaville.

Cleveland Cathedral Latin, which has matched state champion Middletown's 13-game winning streak this year—but is far shy of the 38 straight the Butler Cougars have compiled—brezzled into second place and Canton McKinley's twice-beaten Bulldogs into third.

Only one change popped up in Class A, Lowellville jumping from 11th to fourth as Burton dropped out.

Here is how Ohio's sports editors rate the state's top Class AA and Class A basketball teams this week.

Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 100-point voting basis, and the week's record of the top 10. Records of undefeated teams among also-rans are in parentheses.

Ohio Trotter Tops All U. S. In Victories

COLUMBUS — Paul Jackson, 4-year-old trotter owned by Jules Louiss and Harley Fox of Fayetteville, won more races than any other harness horse in 1956, the U. S. Trotting Association reports.

The gelded son of Frank Jackson won 25 races to edge out the aged trotter Volomite Express and the aged pacer Ruth Lybrook, each of whom posted 24 wins. Paul Jackson finished second in his other six starts. Frank Jackson was the famous "broken-legged" horse owned by McKinley Kirk of Washington, C. H.

Four of the six divisional leaders were Ohio owned including all three of the trotting leaders, aged, 2-year-old and 3-year-old.

The other divisional leaders were: 3-year-old trotter, Gladys Volo (21) owned by Melvin Eisert of Wapakoneta; 2-year-old trotter, Kimberly Way (14), owned by L. P. Bailey of Piqua; aged pacer, Ruth Lybrook (24) owned by Lester P. Wetzel of Carlisle, Pa.; 2-year-old pacer, Steamfin Demon (22) owned by George Van Camp of Circleville; and 2-year-old pacer, Torpid (17) owned by Sherwood Farm, Irvington, N. J.

Torpid was the only divisional leader to earn national recognition, the son of Knight Dream having been honored by turf writers as the Two Year Old Pacer of the Year. He is the winter book favorite for pacing's Triple Crown which consists of the Little Brown Jug, Cane Futurity and Messenger Stakes.

You Can't Count Lions Out of SCO Loop Race

Although the Lions of WHS are tied with Circleville's Tigers for third place in the South Central Ohio League basketball standing, they are by no means completely out of the race.

By winning their remaining three league games, they could take the championship — if the two leaders, Wilmington's Hurricane and Hillsboro's Indians, tied at the top with a 4-2 record, lose both of the two SCO games still on their schedules.

The Hurricane, Indians and Greenfield's Tigers have played six games each. The Lions and the Circleville Tigers have played only five, are to meet here Friday night.

The Lions have broken even with the Indians and had a victory over the other co-leader, the Hurricane. They swamped the Indians, 67-49 in their first game but lost the second, 61-57, and trounced Wilmington 73-63, early in the season here. The Lions will meet the Hurricane for the second time Feb. 15.

The 21-year-old welterweight prospect earned his second main event by whipping veteran Chris Christensen of Denmar, in a 10-round at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night in a lively scrap.

"That will take care of plenty of expenses at college," said the articulate college junior who aims to be a geologist.

THE LIONS' OTHER SCO victory was a 58-55 conquest of Greenfield's last-place Tigers and their other defeat was handed them by Circleville's Tigers by the decisive score of 60 to 44.

The Lions will wind up their schedule with the Greenfield Tigers here Feb. 22.

The league standing as the five teams move midway down the homestretch is:

| VARISITY | WON | LOST |
|-------------|-----|------|
| Wilmington | 4 | 2 |
| Hillsboro | 4 | 2 |
| Circleville | 3 | 2 |
| Wash. C. H. | 3 | 2 |
| Greenfield | 0 | 6 |

Hot Spartans Thump Bucks By 73 to 64

LANSING (AP)—Looks as if all Fordy Anderson's kids at Michigan State needed was that week off for midterm exams.

Whatever it was, it made a basketball team out of them. Pushed around and trampled in the first half of the season, the Spartans have come back to spill two of the Big Ten's toughest. The coup de grace was a 73-64 decision over Ohio State Monday night, the Buckeyes' first conference defeat after six victories.

Only last Saturday, Michigan State surprised Minnesota 72-59. The Spartans had only four victories in 11 starts before mid-term exam time.

Ohio State hit on 45 per cent of its shots against Michigan State but could get off only 53 attempts against the Spartans' defense. Jack Quiggle, with 21 points, was tops for the Spartans.

Two other nationally rated teams in action won handily on the road, fourth-ranked Kentucky 76-65 over Georgia Tech, and Iowa State (No. 8 in the new Associated Press poll out today) by a 67-56 rout over Oklahoma.

In another major game, Purdue defeated Northwestern 81-77.

Fullmer Wins Decision over Wilf Greaves

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Windmill-punching Gene Fullmer slugged out a unanimous decision over Wilf Greaves Monday night in a 10-round, non-title bout, his first fight since becoming middle-weight champion.

Fullmer was up against a tougher match than when he jolted the crown of Sugar Ray Robinson less than four weeks ago. And he was the first to admit it.

"Greaves was tougher than Robinson," he said.

Greaves, a former Canadian amateur now fighting from Pittsburgh, brought the crowd of 3,500 to its feet as he ended the battle in a toe-to-toe flurry with the champ.

But the same pounding hooks to the midsection and head that whipped Robinson put Fullmer clearly on top of Greaves about midway in the fray.

Both opened up hard and for a few rounds their styles matched. Both poured in volleys of lefts and rights to the ribs and an occasional slap at the head.

However, Greaves began to tire as Fullmer worked over his body in the clinches. The Pittsburgh slugger tried standing off from the champ's thundering low wide ones to the sides, but this failed too.

Lopez Says Chisox Similar To Tribe: Good Pitch, No Hit

Editor's Note: Following is another in a series of managerial news of the 1957 baseball season written under the manager's own byline.

By AL LOPEZ
TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—For the first time in seven years I'll be wearing a uniform other than that of the Cleveland Indians when I assume my duties as manager of the Chicago White Sox next month. But it seems to me the setting will be the same. Good pitching and uncertain hitting.

I don't mean to say that the White Sox will be a punchless outfit in 1957. Far from it. But the team right now lacks a power hitter, a real good No. 4 batter. That is our greatest need, as I see it.

You never can have enough pitching but I'm satisfied with fellows like Billy Pierce, Jack Harshman, Dick Donovan, Jim Wilson, Bob Keegan, Dixie Howell, Paul T. Palmer and Ellis Kinder. We're also bringing up several good looking youngsters, one or two of whom might help us this year.

From what I saw of the White Sox last year, they were a sound ball club. I know they beat the Indians 12 times in 22 games.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—The road to Ohio's high school basketball heights is getting steeper.

At least five teams—three in the top 10—saw their Class AA records sullied for the first time last week, and The Associated Press ratings were jumbled by the impact.

The swashbuckling deeds of Columbus East in the last two weeks sent the former state champs into 10th place in the poll despite a 7-5 record—the poorest ever to ease into the elite list.

Two weeks ago the Capital City club defeated Lockland Wayne's Class A powerhouse and then forced champion Middletown into an overtime before surrendering. Last week East banged into second place Columbus North and emerged with a 52-50 double-overtime conquest.

Zanesville, fourth last week with 12 straight, was halted 68-63 by Newark, and Tiffin Columbus' seventh-placers stopped at 11 as sixth-place Shelby triumphed 69-65.

Other big sprees to end were Cincinnati Roger Bacon's 11-game streak in a 59-57 overtime at the hands of Joe Martin's Lockland Wayne team, and Toledo Clay's 11-game stretch, which foundered on a 48-39 loss to Toledo Whitmer.

Dave Murray of Steubenville's unbeaten Big Red also saw a long streak end. He missed his first free throw against Bellaire St. John after making 25 in a row. "The Big Red didn't miss it, however, as it triumphed 96-69 for its 10th conquest."

One streak everyone was glad to see end was a string of 32 straight losses suffered by Cumberland of Guernsey County. The team hadn't won since the opener of the 1955-56 campaign, but Myron Rhinehart scored 30 points to clinch a 68-58 verdict over Senecaville.

Cleveland Cathedral Latin, which has matched state championship Middletown's 13-game winning streak this year—but is far shy of the 38 straight the Butler Countians have compiled—breezed into second place and Canton McKinley's twice-beaten Bulldogs into third.

Only one change popped up in Class A, Lowellville jumping from 11th to fourth as Burton dropped out.

Here is how Ohio's sports editors rate the state's Class AA and Class A basketball teams this week.

Shown are the first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 100-point basis, and the win-loss records of the top 10. Records of undefeated teams among also-rans are in parentheses.

Ohio Trotter Tops All U. S. In Victories

COLUMBUS — Paul Jackson, 4-year-old trotter owned by Jules Louie and Harley Fox of Fayetteville, won more races than any other harness horse in 1956, the U. S. Trotting Association reports.

The gelded son of Frank Jackson won 25 races to edge out the aged trotter Volomite Express and the aged pacer Ruth Lybrook, each of whom posted 24 wins. Paul Jackson finished second in his other six starts. Frank Jackson was the famous "broken-legged" horse owned by McKinley Kirk of Washington, C. H.

Four of the six divisional leaders were Ohio-owned including all three of the trotting leaders, aged, 2-year-old and 3-year-old.

The other divisional leaders were: 2-year-old trotter Gladys Volo (21) owned by Melvin Eisert of Wapakoneta; 2-year-old trotter, Kimberly Way (14), owned by L. P. Bailey of Piqua; aged pacer, Ruth Lybrook (24) owned by Lester P. Wetzel of Carlisle, Pa.; 3-year-old pacer, Steamin' Demon (22) owned by George Van Camp of Circleville; and 2-year-old pacer, Torpid (17) owned by Sherwood Farm, Irvington, N. J.

Torpid was the only divisional leader to earn national recognition, the son of Knight Dream having been honored by turf writers as the Two Year Old Pacer of The Year. He is the winter book favorite for pacing's Triple Crown which consists of the Little Brown Jug, Cane Futurity and Messenger Stakes.

You Can't Count Lions Out of SCO Loop Race

Although the Lions of WHS are tied with Circleville's Tigers for third place in the South Central Ohio League basketball standing, they are by no means completely out of the race.

By winning their remaining three league games, they could take the championship — if the two leaders, Wilmington's Hurricane and Hillsboro's Indians, tied at the top with a 4-2 record, lose both of the two SCO games still on their schedules.

The Hurricane, Indians and Greenfield's Tigers have played six games each. The Lions and the Circleville Tigers who have played only five, are to meet here Friday night.

The Lions have broken even with the Indians and hold a victory over the other co-leader, the Hurricane. They swamped the Indians, 67-49 in their first game but lost the second, 61-57, and trounced Wilmington 73-63, early in the season here. The Lions will meet the Hurricane for the second time Feb. 15.

THE LIONS' OTHER SCO victory was a 58-55 conquest of Greenfield's last — place Tigers and their other defeat was handed them by Circleville's Tigers by the decisive score of 60 to 44.

The Lions will wind up their schedule with the Greenfield Tigers here Feb. 22.

The league standing as the five teams move midway down the homestretch is:

| VARISITY | WON | LOST |
|-------------|-----|------|
| Wilmington | 4 | 2 |
| Hillsboro | 4 | 2 |
| Circleville | 3 | 2 |
| Wash. C. H. | 3 | 2 |
| Greenfield | 0 | 6 |

OSU Cager Hikes His Scoring Lead

CHICAGO (P)—Ohio State's hot shooting Frank Howard upped his lead in the Big Ten all-games scoring race by Indiana's Archie Dees maintained the individual average lead.

Howard leads the conference race with 311 points in 15 games for a 20.6 average. Dees, however, has 267 points in 11 games for a 24.2 average, best in the Big Ten.

Joe Ruklick, Northwestern sophomore is third with 263 points in 15 games for a 17.0 average followed by Illinois' George Salle, declared ineligible Monday, with 241 points in 12 games for an even 20-point average.

Suspended Cager

CINCINNATI (P)—Connie Dierking, suspended basketball star for the University of Cincinnati, has two tests to pass today. They involve the confidence of his coach and of his teammates.

Coach George Smith said, "We'll have another talk about it all. But he has to promise to live up to our standards. And he'll also have to go before our team and state his case."

title, the WHS Reserves appear to be well on their way to wrapping up the championship of their division. The standing now is:

| RESERVE | | |
|-------------------|---|---|
| Wash. C. H. | 4 | 1 |
| Greenfield | 3 | 3 |
| Wilmington | 3 | 3 |
| Circleville | 2 | 3 |
| Hillsboro | 2 | 4 |

Collegian Chalks Another Ring Win

NEW YORK (P)—Tony DiBiase, the college courier from New York University, had an unbeaten streak of 17 today and more important—another pay-day awarded for Feb. 25 against Danny Giarelli.

The 21-year-old welterweight prospect earned his second main event by whipping veteran Chris Christensen of Denmark in a 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night in a lively scrap.

"That will take care of plenty of expenses at college," said the articulate college junior who aims to be a geologist.

2 Fined for Gambling As Result of Shooting

Shooting craps surreptitiously in a private home may get by the police, but when it gets mixed up with shooting bullets, that's something else.

That's what happened the afternoon of Jan. 19—and Tuesday morning three men were brought into Municipal Court to face charges of gambling in the home of Albert Beatty, 732 Columbus Ave.

Beatty, facing grand jury action on charges of shooting Fred Mabry with intent to wound, was fined on two charges — $5 and costs for permitting gambling in his home and $5 and costs for gambling.

Mabry, with a bullet wound in his side, was fined $5 and costs for shooting craps. Both Beatty and Mabry pleaded guilty.

The third man to face the court was John Tyree Jr., 37, 1122 E. Paint St. He pleaded not guilty and Judge Max G. Dice dismissed the case against him when he testified that he was not in the game because he was "broke".

There is a warrant out for still another man, but he has not yet been picked up by police.

Only two other cases were on the Municipal Court docket Tuesday. One was that of a plain drunk, who was fined $5 and costs and the other was a charge of assault and battery against Alvin Long of Jeffersonville. The charge against Long was filed by Betty Long Monday, but she was permitted to withdraw it by Judge Dice upon payment of court costs of $7.20 and sheriff's costs of $3.

Greenfield Boy Hurt In Farm Feed Mill

An 11-year-old boy seriously injured on his father's farm near Greenfield Monday afternoon was reported "doing well" at Children's Hospital in Columbus Monday night.

The boy, Harold Brewer Jr., suffered a fractured skull and multiple jaw fractures when his shirt caught in a feed - grinding belt and he was thrown into a hammer-mill.

An ambulance from the Murray Funeral Home in Greenfield, which took him to Columbus, was escorted through Fayette County by Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson. The ambulance also received an escort in Franklin County.

According to Dr. Glenn Doan of Greenfield, who treated the boy, young Brewer was helping his shirt grind corn feed when his shirt became entangled in the belt. The weight of his body disengaged the belt and threw him into the machine.

Parents of the boy are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brewer of near Greenfield. He was given emergency treatment at Greenfield Hospital before being taken to Columbus.

Probe Starts In Gas Blast Fatal to 7

ROSELLE, Ill. (U) — Authorities investigated the shattered ruins of a two-story brick hardware store-apartment building which exploded and burned Monday killing seven persons and injuring nine.

The nighttime blast and flash fire, which police said apparently was caused by leaking gas, littered rubble through the business section of this northern Illinois town of 1,000.

Police said they believed all the victims were in the store. The injured were in nearby shops or on the sidewalk.

The blast broke windows for blocks around and was felt several miles away. Its impact blew a woman from a second-story apartment onto a shed roof. She is Mrs. Amanda Gieseke, mother of hardware store operator Herbert Gieseke, 40, whom police listed among the dead.

Police Chief Gerald Young said public Service Co. employees were drilling post holes in the area and that they drilled through a gas main in front of the hardware store. He said repairmen from the Northern Illinois Gas Co. were called and shortly after they went into the basement of the store the blast occurred.

Fire officials estimated damage at $300,000.

Teamsters To Defy Policy Of AFL-CIO

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U) — The giant teamsters union stood defiant today of a new AFL-CIO policy against union leaders invoking the Fifth Amendment to avoid testifying in labor racket probes.

The AFL-CIO policy, written by Federation President George Meany and endorsed by the AFL-CIO Executive Council, orders affiliated unions to oust any union official taking the Fifth Amendment "for his personal protection" in investigations by government committees.

"The policy is 100 per cent wrong," said Teamsters Union President Dave Beck. "It will come back to haunt the labor movement."

Beck declared that the teamsters will continue letting their officials "invoke the privileges of the Bill of Rights, without, by such act alone, subjecting themselves to trial or disciplinary action by our union."

"The action taken by the Executive Council of the AFL-CIO does not in any way alter our position." This appeared to toss the matter back to Meany and the AFL-CIO council.

But council members said regardless of Beck's position the council would make no move until some teamsters' union official invokes the Fifth Amendment without his union acting to remove him—as required by the new policy adopted Monday.

Ohio Solons Oppose

As proposed, $325 million would be allotted to the states and territories each of the four next years on a "need" basis. Wealthier states, similar to Ohio, would pay more in taxes than the would get back.

Ohio pays between 8 and 9 per cent of the nation's federal taxes. If money were returned to the state on that basis, Ohio would receive more than twice its proposed allotment.

On a per-child basis, the $11.3 million Ohio would receive annually breaks down to $6.07. Only eight states would receive any less per child. All Southern states except Florida would receive close to twice that amount.

The minimum amount which Ohio could put up to match the federal allotment on this "need" basis is $16.3 million annually for the next four years.

School districts in Ohio, therefore—if the bill and the need formula survive—would receive $27.6 million in combined federal-state grants for each of the four years. The state would provide roughly 60 per cent of this.

Benson Proposes New Corn Plan with 70 Pct. Parity

WASHINGTON (U)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today the Eisenhower administration would be willing to accept a price support floor of 70 per cent of parity for corn under a proposed new three-year program.

Thereafter the grain would be supported at between zero and 90 per cent of parity, at the discretion of the department. Present law requires corn, like other major crops, to be supported indefinitely at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they must pay.

Benson gave the administration position in testimony before the Senate Agriculture Committee.

He said a new corn program is needed because the present one, based on legislation enacted in 1938, is no longer effective in stabilizing prices and supplies. It calls upon growers to make reductions in production which few are willing to make.

The new program would allot 51 million acres a year through 1959 to production of corn in a designated commercial area, now comprising all or part of 2 states. The present program would allot only 37,300,000 acres.

Growers would be required to put an acreage of tilled land equal to 15 per cent of their corn base acreage—that is, allotment—into the soil bank if they wanted price supports. The present program makes no such requirement.

The measure would set no floor for corn supports. However, there has been strong demand from corn state legislators that the new program fix a floor—most of them insisting upon a minimum of 75 per cent of parity.

In view of the position taken by these legislators, Benson said "we would be willing to see a 70 per cent of parity price support floor for corn, for the duration of the acreage reserve program" which expires with 1959 crops.

After that there would be no acreage allotment and supports could be set between zero and 90 per cent of parity.

2 Fined for Gambling As Result of Shooting

Shooting craps surreptitiously in a private home may get by the police, but when it gets mixed up with shooting bullets, that's something else.

That's what happened the afternoon of Jan. 19—and Tuesday morning three men were brought into Municipal Court to face charges of gambling in the home of Albert Beatty, 732 Columbus Ave.

Beatty, facing grand jury action on charges of shooting Fred Mabry with intent to wound, was fined on two charges — $5 and costs for permitting gambling in his home and $5 and costs for gambling.

Mabry, with a bullet wound in his side, was fined $5 and costs

for shooting craps. Both Beatty and Mabry pleaded guilty.

The third man to face the court was John Tyree Jr., 37, 1122 E. Paint St. He pleaded not guilty and Judge Max G. Dice dismissed the case against him when he testified that he was not in the game because he was "broke".

There is a warrant out for still another man, but he has not yet been picked up by police.

Only two other cases were on the Municipal Court docket Tuesday. One was that of a plain drunk, who was fined $5 and costs and the other was a charge of assault and battery against Alvin Long of Jeffersonville. The charge against Long was filed by Betty Long Monday, but she was permitted to withdraw it by Judge Dice upon payment of court costs of $7.20 and sheriff's costs of $3.

Greenfield Boy Hurt In Farm Feed Mill

An 11-year-old boy seriously injured on his father's farm near Greenfield Monday afternoon was reported "doing well" at Children's Hospital in Columbus Monday night.

The boy, Harold Brewer Jr., suffered a fractured skull and multiple jaw fractures when his shirt caught in a feed - grinding mill and he was thrown into a hammer-mill.

An ambulance from the Murray Funeral Home in Greenfield, which took him to Columbus, was escorted through Fayette County by Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson. The ambulance also received an escort in Franklin County.

According to Dr. Glenn Doan of Greenfield, who treated the boy, young Brewer was helping his father grind cow feed when his shirt became entangled in the belt. The weight of his body disengaged the belt and threw him into the machine.

Parents of the boy are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brewer of near Greenfield. He was given emergency treatment at Greenfield Hospital before being taken to Columbus.

Probe Starts In Gas Blast Fatal to 7

ROSELLE, Ill. (U) — Authorities investigated the shattered ruins of a two-story brick hardware store-apartment building which exploded and burned Monday killing seven persons and injuring nine.

The nighttime blast and flash fire, which police said apparently was caused by leaking gas, littered rubble through the business section of this northern Illinois town of 3,000.

Police said they believed all the victims were in the store. The injuries were in nearby shops or on the sidewalk.

The blast broke windows for blocks around and was felt several miles away. Its impact blew a woman from a second-story apartment onto a shed roof. She is Mrs. Amanda Gieseke, mother of hardware store operator Herbert Gieseke, 40, whom police listed among the dead.

Police Chief Gerald Young said Public Service Co. employees were drilling post holes in the area and that they drilled through a gas main in front of the hardware store. He said repairmen from the Northern Illinois Gas Co. were called and shortly after they went into the basement of the store the blast occurred.

Fire officials estimated damage at $300,000.

Teamsters To Defy Policy Of AFL-CIO

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The giant teamsters union stood defiant today of a new AFL-CIO policy against union leaders invoking the Fifth Amendment to avoid testifying in labor racket probes.

The AFL-CIO policy, written by Federation President George Meany and endorsed by the AFL-CIO Executive Council, orders affiliated unions to oust any union official taking the Fifth Amendment "for his personal protection" in investigations by government committees.

"The policy is 100 per cent wrong," said Teamsters Union President Dave Beck. "It will come back to haunt the labor movement."

Beck declared that the teamsters will continue letting their officials "invoke the privileges of the Bill of Rights, without, by such act alone, subjecting themselves to trial or disciplinary action by our union."

"The action taken by the Executive Council of the AFL-CIO does not in any way alter our position."

This appeared to toss the matter back to Meany and the AFL-CIO council.

But council members said regardless of Beck's position the council would make no move until some teamsters' union official invokes the Fifth Amendment without his union acting to remove him—as required by the new policy adopted Monday.

positively. Rep. William E. Hess (R-Ohio) voted against the school aid bill in the House last year.

As proposed, $325 million would be allotted to the states and territories each of the four next years on a "need" basis. Wealthier states, similar to Ohio, would pay more in taxes than the would get back.

Ohio pays between 8 and 9 per cent of the nation's federal taxes. If money were returned to the state on that basis, Ohio would receive more than twice its proposed allotment.

On a per-child basis, the $11.3 million Ohio would receive annually breaks down to $6.07. Only eight states would receive any less per child. All Southern states except Florida would receive close to twice that amount.

The minimum amount which Ohio could put up to match the federal allotment on this "need" basis is $16.3 million annually for the next four years.

School districts in Ohio, therefore—if the bill and the need formula survive—would receive $27.6 million in combined federal-state grants for each of the four years. The state would provide roughly 60 per cent of this.
